

STRIKE MAY END NEXT WEEK

THE OPERATIVES

Favor Acceptance of Concessions
Granted by the Mill Men

LAWRENCE, March 2.—The general textile situation here today strongly indicated that the industrial struggle which began on Jan. 22 would be ended next week. A large percentage of the idle operatives favor the acceptance of the concessions announced by nearly all of the mill owners of Lawrence. These concessions include an advance of wages over the scale paid under the 54-hour law of at least five per cent.

The mill owners have not officially recognized either the Industrial Workers of the World or the United Textile Workers of America but have handled the situation through the representatives of their own employees.

It develops that an important element in the ranks of organized labor is in favor of having the strike declared off on the ground that the strikers have obtained all they asked for originally and that they can consistently claim a victory. This element fears that should the struggle be prolonged the unions would be unable to keep the strikers out of the mills, thereby allowing the strike to collapse and giving the mill owners an opportunity to claim a victory over the Industrial Workers of the World and the United Textile Workers of America. The opinion was practically general in Lawrence today that the end of the strike is in sight. Notices of an advance in wages have been given thus far by textile manufacturers in New England employing upwards of 50,000 operatives when the mills are running on full time. The number affected by the coming change in the wage schedule in this city follows:

American Woolen Co. (Wood mills) 5500; Washington, 5000; Ayer, 2500; Prospect, 500; Arlington mills, 5500; Pacific cotton mills, 5000; Atlantic cotton mills, 1000; Lawrence Duck Co., 1000; Pemberton cotton mills, 700; Methuen cotton mills, 300; United States Worsted Co., 500.

Among the independent mills which have followed the lead of the Arlington mills in posting notices of an advance next Monday are the three plants of the M. T. Stevens & Sons Co., in North Andover and Haverhill, Mass., and Franklin, N. H. The Stevens mills employ 2000. A number of other mills are expected to post notices of an advance within a short time.

The many friends of William J. Flynn, former captain of Hose Co. No. 8 of the local fire department, will be pained to learn of his death which occurred this forenoon at his late home, 41 West L. street.

Deceased was 53 years of age and was a well known figure in this city, having been captain of Hose Co. 8 for many years until a few years ago when he was placed on the pension roll. His untimely death will be a hard blow to the many who knew him, especially to the members of the local fire department, who are losing one of their best friends.

He is survived by a son, William J. Flynn, a daughter, Margaret, and two grandchildren, Walter and John H. Connor.

GOVERNOR FOSS

Asks Inquiry Into State
Control of Insane

BOSTON, March 2.—Governor Foss, in a special message to the legislature, calls for an exhaustive study of the present form of state control of the insane. He questions whether the present system has justified itself. The governor refuses to approve special appropriations amounting to nearly $1,000,000 on the ground that the special appropriations are based upon the theory that the insane institutions must be constantly enlarged.

"I believe that in general, our state system tends more toward isolating and permanently confining the insane than toward their effective medical treatment," says the governor.

Mayor Fitzgerald's bill to abolish poll taxes was reported favorably in the house yesterday.

JEREMIAH LYNCH

A Former Resident of Lowell is Dead

Jeremiah Lynch, formerly of this city, died at his home in Pawtucket, R. I., Thursday. The following report of his death was clipped from a Pawtucket paper:

The death of Jeremiah Lynch, a well known resident of the city for many years, occurred yesterday afternoon at his home, 539 High street, after an illness of only a few hours. Mr. Lynch was taken ill with a shock while eating breakfast at his home yesterday morning. He fell unconscious, in which condition he remained in spite of the efforts made to revive him, and died about 4 in the afternoon. Dr. Howe, who attended him, pronounced the cause of death to be cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Lynch came to this city from Lowell, Mass., when a young man and always made his home here since. He was always deeply interested in athletics, particularly baseball, and in his younger days took an active part in the latter sport. At the time of the old State league he was an umpire on the circuit and afterward served in this capacity in other matches and series in various parts of New England.

The deceased is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Thomas H. Hughes. He was a member of Central Falls Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and was actively interested in the affairs of that body. The funeral will take place Monday morning at Sacred Heart church, Pawtucket.

ENJOYED SKATING

Last evening a great number of young people enjoyed skating on Hale's brook. The portion between the Lincoln and Plain street bridges is in good condition.

NO TROUBLE FEARED

In Lowell as Result of Lawrence Strike---
Wages May be Increased

What effect will the five per cent increase granted in Lawrence have on the Lowell mills?

This question is being widely asked in Lowell and it is not at all surprising that great interest is being manifested in the situation as it stands at the present time.

Mill agents and other mill officials are not disposed to discuss the situation but they are a unit in declaring that the business does not warrant an increase at this time. The financial condition of at least two of the local cotton mills is anything but encouraging.

The mill workers asked for an increase of ten per cent, the first of the year and that is only two months ago. They were told at that time that conditions were such as to render it impossible to grant the request but that an increase would be granted just as soon as business would so improve as to warrant it.

A reporter for The Sun who has talked with a great many mill men within the last few days has received a great many different views on the subject and so far as getting anything definite as to what will be done under the present circumstances if the Lowell mills will follow suit with Lawrence, none of those interviewed would make any definite statement.

"That's a matter that will be settled in Boston," said one mill man, "and until such time as the voice is heard in Boston we will be as much in the dark as yourself. We are not anticipating any trouble at this time and the situation in Lowell never could, in my estimation, be a very dangerous one for the very reason that our class of help is much more intelligent than in the average mill city. Then again I feel that there is a much better understanding by the mill operatives and operators or the latter's agents, than ever before and I believe that the average operative feels that the local mills are disposed to do the very best they can for their help.

"I have not heard any complaints and I have not heard any strike talk and I think I would have heard something about it if any had been going on. Our operatives are not afraid to talk with their overseers, bosses or the agent himself, for that matter, for they are intelligent people and know that if they have complaints to make they should make them to their employers rather than to outsiders."

"How do wages in Lowell compare with wages in Lawrence?" queried the reporter.

"I think they are about the same," replied the mill man.

"Do you mean that they are about the same now or about the same before the increase was granted in Lawrence?"

"Well, I would say, for a guess, that with the increase the wages in the Lawrence cotton mills would be a little higher than in Lowell. I would have to look the matter up, however, to be sure about it."

"You believe that the mill operatives of Lowell are entitled to as good wages as are paid in Lawrence?"

"Yes, indeed. I doubt if there is a city in the country that has a more intelligent class of mill operatives than Lowell and the best is none too good for them; but you must not lose sight of the fact that circumstances alter cases. I presume there are mills in Lowell that might pay a small increase and pull along on the ragged edge, so to speak, but there are other mills that could not afford it. You may put it right down in your little book that there are mills in Lowell today that are running and not making a cent and I might make that statement over to you."

An official of one of the Textile unions when asked if there is any danger of a strike in Lowell, said he did not think so. "I believe the mill operatives can reach an agreement with the agents on the wage question without a strike and without any course that would interrupt business."

NEW BEAM HOUSE OF THE AMERICAN HIDE AND LEATHER COMPANY

The new beam house of the American Hide & Leather Co. in Perry street is finished, all that is left to be done being the cleaning part and this will be completed within a few days. The cement work is all done, and already a large part of the building has been heated.

The Aberthaw Construction Co. erected the building which is of concrete, and the officials of the company stated this morning that the place is ready for occupancy any time now, and that the building will be turned over to American Hide & Leather Co. probably sometime next week.

Work on the building was started on Sept. 1, 1911, and pushed along at a rapid gait, and now Lowell has one of the most improved and sanitary beam houses in the country, and it will be only a short time before the residents of Howe street and its vicinity will be able to breathe purer air than they have for a number of years.

INCREASE IN WAGES

Granted the Employees of the U. S. Bunting Co.

It was reported today that an increase in the wages of its operatives had been granted by the United States Bunting Co., and the report was verified by C. Brooks Stevens, treasurer of that company, and the Middlesex company in Warren street.

"Is it true, Mr. Stevens, that the United States Bunting Co. has advanced the wages of its operatives?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, it is true," said Mr. Stevens. "Was it a five per cent advance?"

"This company has decided to give its operatives an increase, but it has not stated just exactly what the increase would be."

The advance does not extend to the Middlesex mills for the reason perhaps that these mills are just preparing to resume operations. The Middlesex, as has already been stated in The Sun, will resume the manufacture of the famous Middlesex blue and a few looms are already in operation.

FIRE IN A GARAGE

Blaze Started Near a Gasoline Tank

An alarm from box 42 at 1:57 o'clock this afternoon summoned a portion of the fire department to the Stanley garage in Middlesex street to extinguish a fire in an automobile belonging to Isaac E. Wotton. The fire started near the gasoline tank and the proprietor of the place with the assistance of one of his employees pushed the blazing machine into the street. Then the alarm was rung in and shortly after the arrival of the fire department the blaze was extinguished.

THOMAS CARRICK

Dracut's Tree Warden Makes Report

Thomas Carrick, tree warden of the town of Dracut and superintendent of moth work in that district, has prepared a most interesting report of the work done during the past year. Mr. Carrick has held his present position for two years and has given great satisfaction to the residents of Dracut. He is the first man who succeeded in getting the use of the power spray for that town for spraying wool lots, and he has done more roadside cutting than has ever been done in the town. He succeeded in getting the United States government department interested to the extent that they sent men to Dracut to clean up all roads which were badly infested with moths, and the people of Dracut claim that he has done more work along this line than has been performed in Dracut for many years. The government, through his efforts, is putting out the wilt disease which is expected to destroy the gypsy moth on over three hundred acres of land in that town. During the winter of 1911-1912 Carrick carried out eighteen men in Dracut and the entire river bank along the Lawrence road has been cleared up. Mr. Carrick takes a great interest in his work and the people of the town realize that he is doing his best to aid all. His report to the selectmen goes into detail explaining the work of his department and will be embodied in the annual report.

HENHOUSE BURNED

100 HENS PERISHED IN FIRE AT AUSTIN FARM

BOSTON, March 2.—Three hundred women inmates of the Boston Insane hospital at Austin Farm, West Roxbury, through the barred windows shortly after 8 o'clock last night, saw fire destroy the one and one-half story wooden henhouse, located about 200 yards from the main building on the southwest corner of the grounds.

A damage of about $300 resulted and 100 hens ended their usefulness with the fire.

The cause of the fire was an overheated stove. Night Watchman Smith discovered the fire and turned in an alarm. Before the arrival of the apparatus, though, the building was practically destroyed. The fire was spectacular at times the flames leaping 20 feet in the air from the force of the high winds.

There was no excitement in the hospital, though as the henhouse was located from practically all the other buildings on the grounds.

BACHELOR CLUB

TO ENTERTAIN THE ELKS OF MALDEN

The members of the Bachelor club minstrel troupe held a rehearsal last evening for the show that the organization will present in Wakefield on March 17. Owing to the occasion, St. Patrick's day, the troupe will depart from its usual line and will give a genuine Irish program. Another rehearsal will be held in Harrington hall tomorrow afternoon. It was announced last night by Director Slattery that he had received a communication from the Malden lodge of Elks, requesting the troupe to go to Malden on April 20 to present a minstrel show. The members decided to accept and will appear in that town on the above date.

Rehearsals are being held at the Sacred Heart school hall for the presentation of an "Irish Night" in the hall on March 17, St. Patrick's night. Last year the talented members of the parish presented "Uncle Patrick's Birthday" with great success. This year the same members will appear and from present indications the performance will eclipse that which was so successfully given last year.

STRIKE LEADERS

INSISTED ON THE DEMANDS MADE ORIGINALLY

LAWRENCE, March 2.—Although all the textile mills in this city against which the strike of operatives has been directed for two months with two exceptions have posted notices regarding an increase in wages or have announced their intention of doing so during the day, the strike officially was a nearer settlement today than before the action by the millowners. Today being a half holiday, the number of persons that went to work in the mills could not be taken as a reasonable indication of what effect the increase in wages may have upon the strikers generally but the attitude of the strike leaders and many of the members of the organized labor bodies continued strongly in support of the original demands, which greatly exceeded the offer made by the millowners. Unless something new is offered the millowners it was stated that neither the Industrial Workers of the World nor the Central labor union would take any steps toward officially declaring the strike at an end. It is thought that a large number of operatives may not wait for the strike to be declared ended by the labor leaders, believing that the documents offered by the millowners are sufficient to persuade them to return to work. Whether or not the general strike body will return to the mills will be seen Monday morning when the wage increase goes into effect. The meeting of the general strike committee of the Industrial Workers of the World this morning before the matter of deciding upon another conference between the sub-committee of the general strike committee and the officers of the American Woolen Co. with the legislative committee on conciliation.

The general strike committee was also prepared to report on the conference in Boston yesterday with the officers of the American Woolen Co. which ended without an agreement being made owing to a misunderstanding as to the extent of the wage increase which the company announced was to be general in all of its mills.

A canvass of all the mills today showed that notices of a wage increase had been posted at the four mills of the American Woolen Co., the Ayer, Washington, Wood and Prospect mills. At the Lawrence Dye works and the Uswooc mill today a notice was posted announcing that beginning next Monday the operatives will be granted an increase in wages. To those whose pay averages $7 a week an increase of five per cent will be given while the employees earning $5 or under will receive an increase of 15 per cent, in pay.

No children were sent from this city today to Philadelphia, although it was expected that a delegation would be transported in an endeavor to create sympathy in the cause of the strike. The strike committee decided to postpone the matter of sending any children because the cases of the fourteen children who were taken into custody last Saturday after they had gathered for a trip to Philadelphia are still pending action by the court.

CONFER WITH PRES. WOOD AND THE MILL OWNERS

BOSTON, March 2.—A committee representing all the Lawrence mill strikers met the officials of the American Woolen company in this city last evening in a conference regarding the offer the officials to grant an increase in wages of "at least 5 per cent." At the conclusion of the meeting the strike seemed as far from being settled as it was a week ago.

After an hour's conference with Pres. Wood, Frederick Ayer and other officials of the company, the strikers boarded their train for Lawrence disgruntled, leaving no doubt behind as to unfavorable action of the mass meeting of the strikers today on the acceptance of the offer of the mill owners.

It is probable that the strike would have been brought to an end within 24 hours had the company agreed to grant the wage increase on a "38-hour basis," that is to say increase the wages of the employees 5 per cent, of what they received before the 54-hour law went into effect.

This is not the mill men's offer. They are willing to give a 5 per cent, at least increase on the rates now paid by the hour and by the piece, and this will mean, so far as the workers by the hour are concerned, and they are about 75 per cent, of all the employees of the American Woolen company, an increase figured on a 64-hour a week basis.

The Canadian Pacific train which is due to arrive in this city at 5:48 o'clock was one-half hour late this morning. The Central Vermont Grand Trunk train was also late. This train is scheduled to reach this city at 7:21 o'clock but today it was one hour and a half late.

The baggage, handled by the men at the northern depot at the present time is very heavy. A dog sent from Salem arrived on a train today. The destination of the canine was Newport, N. H. When the train bearing the animal arrived here the latter was taken off and taken to the baggage department. It remained here about one hour. At 1:09 o'clock the animal was placed on the train for Newport.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1911 was 15,442

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Platte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1912. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

It is reported from Washington that Roosevelt's support has slumped greatly since his Columbus speech. He will find that the people do not like a man who breaks his word when candidly given.

The street commissioner, as was expected, tries to blame the other members of the board for cutting his estimates. It is but right that he should have an opportunity to apply the financial ability of which he boasted in his various campaigns since 1900.

The mill operatives of Lowell are entitled to be paid at least as much as those of Lawrence. They are, as a rule, more skillful and more intelligent, and they are certainly not disposed to make any unnecessary trouble for their employers.

The Lawrence officials evidently blundered when they prevented children of strikers being sent out of town with permission of the parents. Parents cannot be deprived of the right to send their children to another city provided the safety of the children be guaranteed.

The Lowell board of trade as well as the Lowell members of the legislature should endeavor to have the Grand Trunk pass through this city on the north side of the river. Dracut, like the other territory north of the Merrimack, has no railroad accommodation and would undergo rapid development were the Grand Trunk to pass through.

The new republic of China is reported to have despatched naval vessels to demand indemnity of the Dutch at Patavia for having killed some Chinese subjects there. This show of defending the honor and the rights of citizens is very well; but we surmise the Chinese republic will not pursue this policy very far. With a larger nation it would appeal to the great powers.

Mr. Bryan apparently thinks that it would be wrong to have all the discord reign upon the republican side. He is, therefore, assiduously planning trouble for the democracy in bringing forward more democratic possibilities. A few weeks ago Bryan seemed committed to Wilson but, as now appears, he only favored Wilson in preference to Harmon. Now, however, he prefers the nomination of Governor Shaffroth of Colorado to any of the candidates mentioned. Perhaps in the end Mr. Bryan will decide to seek the nomination himself, feeling, as does Roosevelt in regard to the presidency, that with an occasional intermission he can keep on seeking the presidential nomination and plunging his party in defeat for the rest of his natural life.

WHAT IS BEER?

What is beer? Who can tell? The pure food board is wrestling with the question just as some years ago it wrestled with the conundrum, "What is whiskey?" It was President Taft who finally gave the definition that was to stand. Perhaps he will now have to solve the beer question, although the election of a democrat may save him the trouble. The democratic president, too, may be more of an authority on the subject.

THE DEADLY PARALLEL

Here are two contradictory statements by Colonel Roosevelt which by a simple illustration he can demonstrate to be in perfect accord:—

Nov. 8, 1904. "Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

Feb. 25, 1912. "I will accept the nomination for president if it be tendered to me."

This, we imagine, should qualify him as president of the Ananias club of which he has long been the patron and procurator.

THE BRITISH COAL STRIKE

The Liberal party of England has had to deal with many difficulties in the form of parliamentary and other conflicts, but the present coal strike is probably the worst yet encountered. Should the strikers become riotous the military forces would be called into action to protect life and property, and in that way the ministry might lose the support of the Laborites. The government wants to avoid any conflict of this kind, and hence it is likely that radical measures will be adopted to bring about a settlement. The continuance of such a strike for even a few weeks would seriously cripple manufacturing, shipping and steam locomotion. Such strikes should be settled by compulsory arbitration.

THE LAWRENCE TROUBLE NEARING THE END

Things are more hopeful in Lawrence. It is refreshing to find that the management of the American Woolen company seems to have come to its senses after a serious spell of indifference to the demands of its employees. The company could have saved money by offering this increase in wages several weeks ago. It would also have saved the city of Lawrence considerable excitement and turmoil.

It is to be hoped that the operatives will accept the advance in wages offered by the mills as it seems to be as much as textile manufacturers usually grant at any one time. We understand that the operatives are to receive pay for 56 hours while working 51 hours, and five per cent. additional. The increase might look somewhat better if it had been put in figures indicating the total percentage of increase.

It is to be hoped that the level-headed labor leaders of Lawrence will advise the strikers to accept this offer and return to work. That would probably end, at least for the present, all trouble between the mill owners and the operatives.

It should be remembered that the textile business is not booming at the present time and that as usual there is likely to be a dull spell during the coming summer on account of the political excitement incident to the presidential year. The tariff is under consideration and the industry will undoubtedly be more or less disturbed as a result; but it is to be hoped that the mills will get along without entrenchment.

That a number of Lowell people will attend the Glendale Irish society dinner in Boston on March 18.

That the members of the Knights of Equity are anxious for a monster banquet.

That "Jim" M. Dowell, erstwhile member of the Lowell Water board likes his new position in New Bedford.

That there'll be some class to the B. & M. clerks' fall in April.

That the semi-monthly dancing parties held under the auspices of the "Old Times" at the Dracut Grange are proving very popular.

That Jimmy Burke of the Mathews is a great hustler.

That Martin Marzette, the popular local temper society, is making good at North Attleboro.

That John Gibson, baggageman at the Northern depot, is very courteous and obliging to all those who have occasion to visit his department.

SEEN AND HEARD

Robert Goetz enjoys a good smoke and a good story equally well. One day recently he was enjoying a Havana while waiting for his auto in front of one of the big buildings around the Goetz estate, when there approached him an elderly and impertinent reformer.

"How many times do you smoke a day?" asked the meddler.

"Three," answered Mr. Goetz, as patiently as he could.

"How much do you pay for them?"

"Fifty cents," confessed the young man.

"Don't you know, sir," continued the sage, "that if you would save the money, by the time you are as old as I am you would own the big building over your own head?"

"Do you own it?" inquired Mr. Goetz.

"No."

"Well, I do," said the young man, and the reformer faded.

The laziest man in the village was actually running and running hard. On, on, he ran until—crash—he landed plump into the dirty vicar.

"What—what is the matter?" gasped the reverend gentleman in astonishment.

"Can't stop, sir," came the hurried reply. "I've just 'tart of some work."

"And have you got the job?" asked the vicar interestedly.

"Don't know, sir; just got to see."

"What is it?" asked the clergyman in amazement.

"Some washin' for my wife!"

Organized helplessness. A queer phrase? Not at all. Here is an old

CURED VERY SORE RASH ON BABY'S EAR

Scatched Until It Bled Then Turned into Scabs. Mother Washed It with Cuticura Soap and Applied Cuticura Ointment. In 3 Weeks He Was as Well as Ever.

74 Blackstone St., Worcester, Mass.—"First a red rash came on baby's ear and it was very itchy. He would scratch it until it would bleed and then it would turn into scabs, and get very sore. He was very cross. I got some ointment, but that made it worse and made him crosser. I bought the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and washed baby with the Cuticura Soap; then put the Cuticura Ointment on. I was surprised to see him getting better after a few treatments and I kept on using them. At the end of three weeks he was perfectly cured and as well as ever. Now he has a beautiful clear skin and has not had any trouble since."

"When I saw how it cured baby I made my husband try it on a rash he had on his leg, which was very sore. After using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment six times it disappeared for good." (Signed) Mrs. John D. Dixon, Nov. 12, 1911.

FACE BECAME CRACKED

Cecilia Much Disfigurement. Was Very Sore. Chisholm, Me.—"My face was all cracked. The skin became cracked and caused much discomfort. It was very sore when I washed or even touched my face, and it itched very much. I could hardly sleep. I tried several kinds of soap and ointment, which gave no satisfactory result. Now my face is clear and isn't sore any more. Thanks to Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I have never had any trouble since." (Signed) Miss Loretta Chisholm, Nov. 14, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 8 pp. book, "Cuticura." Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should share with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

soldier, asking for assistance to get to Canada. Listen to the dialogue:

"How long have you been out of work?"

"I've only been working about half my time since I left the army, sir."

"You haven't a trade?"

"No, sir."

"And your wife has had to go into service?"

"Yes, sir, I'm sorry to say. Not having a trade, I can't get anything better than odd jobs."

"What do you think you'll do in Canada?"

"I don't know, sir. I can go to the land, I suppose."

"What did you do in the army besides drilling?"

"Oh, yes, sir, I was battery barber for a long time."

"Battery barber?"

"Yes, sir."

"But you told me you haven't got a trade?"

"No more I haven't, sir."

"Of barbering is a trade."

"Not in the army, sir."

"Why not?"

"Because I can't shave, sir. I only cut hair."

"In the name of England, they taught you to cut hair, and they didn't teach you to shave?"

"Yes, sir, I can cut hair with anybody, but I can't shave."

"You shave yourself, don't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"And have done for twenty years, I suppose?"

"Oh, yes, of course, sir."

"Himself he shaves, but others he cannot shave."

"That's it, sir."

"Look here, my friend: your first business is to make a barber of yourself. Get somebody to practice on, and if you can't do that, get a big turnip and practice on it. And don't talk about help to Canada till you do it. Understand?"

"Yes, sir; much obliged to you, sir. I see now."

Now, it never occurred to that man to make a real barber of himself. The British army methods were against that sort of thing—organized helplessness, you see.

Another thing that never occurred to the people who had investigated the record of that man and his family to ask the practical questions I have repeated. They had records and particulars as long as your arm; but they hadn't got the vital fact out of the man. Official efficiency didn't contemplate anything so grotesque as advising a man to cut a razor to a lathered turnip.

Helen Taft, daughter of the president, is one of the familiar figures to be seen daily in the saddle along the ways on the outskirts of the capital, especially on the Potomac highway. Miss Taft takes her ride regardless of weather, and her favorite mount is Chicago, a lively animal which, once it leaves the White House grounds, dashes away at a spirited gallop. Miss Taft is always followed by Sgt. McDermott, who was famous as a riding companion of former President Roosevelt on his cross country rides.

Some years ago when William J. Bryan was in one of his campaigns for the seat in the White House he was upon a speech-making tour of the west with a special trainful of newspaper correspondents. One of these correspondents, when the train reached Denver, on its swing round the circle, discovered that his supplies of money were running low. He was to leave the Bryan party at Indianapolis, and when he missed connections with a remittance from his office he counted his cash and estimated, says the New York Post, that by doing with two meals a day and practicing rigid economy otherwise, he would have just enough to buy his ticket to New York—without a sleeper.

He carried out his program and nobody seemed to observe his abstinence. At Indianapolis the connection with the first train east was close. At the station the newspaper man hurried to the ticket office. As he stood there waiting for his turn a large, heavy hand was laid upon his shoulder. He turned and faced Mr. Bryan. "The money you need any money?" said the Nebraska's pleasant voice. "I could use a loan of ten dollars," said the newspaper man. Bryan thrust a twenty-dollar bill into his hand. "It was a charitable action," said the correspondent, telling the story. "But I did not know him well then, and I had no idea that he had noticed either the circumstances of my need, or the fact that I was a newspaper man with a literary association that will enable him to pass it on with a profit. Why Striketh Thou Me?
Translated by Nathan Haskell Dole, from the (anonymous) German.

Why dost thou strike me?—Ever faithful
In service to thee do I live;
And often when thou wert in peril
My very utmost would I give;
My life I would lay down for thee;
Why striketh thou me?

In blustering storm and cruel winter,
In murky night or through the day,
Obedient I have trotted by thee,
And guarded thee along the way.
I've watched thee and protected thee;
Why striketh thou me?

When dashed the robber's steel against thee,
When thou wert threatened by his arm,
And thou didst call for aid and rescue,
Who saved thee then from mortal harm?
My blood flowed on the sand for thee;
Why striketh thou me?

When down the sheer walls of the chasm
That glooms the torrent thou didst slide,
Thou there hadst perished maimed and helpless,
Had I not sought thee far and wide.
Myself forgetting sought I thee;
Why striketh thou me?

When on the furious billows drifting
Thou heededst up a beckoning land,
And no man dared attempt to save thee,
I brought thee safely to the land.
From certain death I rescued thee;
Why striketh thou me?

Oh deem me not to starve and perish;
The poor old Sultan do not shun!
For these ten will the days soon darken
In which thy strength will fade away.
Then thou wilt lay as I lay thee—
Why striketh thou me?

EDITORIAL COMMENT

N. Y. Sun: There can be no denying the fact that the record of automobile accidents in this city grows more shocking from year to year, even from month to month. It is appalling that 263 persons have been killed and 1663 injured in a little more than two years. With the rapid increase of population and the greater use of automobiles, the casualty list will lengthen deplorably, especially in the congested streets of Manhattan, unless a remedy is found. The time is not remote when the horse will retire before the press of automobiles and heavy transportation motors. It is of the first importance, then, that this modern traffic shall be regulated with particular regard to the rights and safety of the great majority that go about on foot.

RETAIN WILEY

Brockton Times: We have every reason to believe that Dr. Harvey Wiley knows his business. We believe that he has demonstrated this time and time again. His work in the past has apparently left nothing to be desired. In reality, however, his labor is only just begun. He has merely touched the fringe of the work in hand. It is the other phases of his undertaking in the past, those of the future should be more important. As the detector of impure food his services have become invaluable to the department of agriculture. We cannot afford to let him go. If his work is hampered by others in the department, it is the other phases of his work we can better afford to dispense with. We want Wiley.

FOR NO-LICENSE

MEETING HELD IN HARMONY HALL, COLLINSVILLE

A no-license meeting was held last night at Harmony hall, Collinsville, and was largely attended. The affair was under the auspices of the Dracut Improvement society and the program included addresses by well known temperance leaders.

John T. Shea of Boston was the principal speaker and for an hour he advocated no license. His remarks were well received and were followed by addresses by Rev. Mr. Carver and Rev. Mr. Bartlett, both of Dracut.

The fact that a writing-desk used by Robert Louis Stevenson fetched no less a sum than $2125 in a London auction room seems to the Literary World to indicate either an abundance of intellect on the part of the purchasers, or in the belief in a craze for objects with a literary association that will enable him to pass it on with a profit. "We wonder," it remarks what R. L. S. would have thought of the price, considerably larger than the copyright of one of his books.

In accordance with the exchange arrangement with Harvard, Albert Business Hart, professor of American history and government, will spend the month of March with Grinnell college, while there giving three courses of lectures of which one will be on United States history between 1816 and 1836 and another eight miscellaneous lectures.

SENATOR HITCHCOCK

Discusses Situation in Colombia at the Present Time

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The senator which resulted in the discussion of the Colombian republic, occurred in the United States with the approval of the highest United States officials, and the spoliation was largely in the interest of a combination of influential capitalists who controlled the French Panama canal company, declared Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, in the senate yesterday. Mr. Hitchcock was speaking in support of his resolution calling upon the president for the complete correspondence with Colombia in connection with the canal. From this, he said, he expected the people would know "whether we are honest and just and whether the time has come when we should act the part of decency, if not generosity towards Colombia."

The senator assailed the Washington government's course and referred to what he said was a "blank declaration" of ex-President Roosevelt, in a speech recently delivered in California, that he "took the canal zone."

"It is not possible," he said, "to look up in official archives the sensational and disgraceful record of our treatment of Colombia, our breach of solemn treaty, our instigation of an insurrection, our spoliation of a weak sister republic."

It was too late to restore Panama to Colombia, he declared, because of the United States' title to the Panama canal, and, through the influence of the United States, the existence of the Panama republic was settled for all time by international agreement. He believed, however, that justice would not be done until the canal controversy had been reopened and Colombia's claims against this government for damages had been settled by diplomatic arrangement or through arbitration.

"The American people know," continued Senator Hitchcock, "that President Roosevelt cut short all negotiations with Colombia for possession of the canal strip and at the psychological moment ordered the Nashville of our American navy to Colon, arriving there November 2. On November 2 a Colombian gunboat arrived with troops for garrison duty at Panama, and at that time our American officers had reported everything quiet on the isthmus and that Colombia was in undisputed control of the province. High officials in Washington were frantic for news as to the revolution and the next day, while representatives of the American navy were re-training the troops which Colombia had sent to prevent disorder and down any insurrection, that ridiculous comic opera revolution occurred in the town of Panama, a few miles away."

"The American people know that if the 500 troops of Colombia had been permitted to reach the town of Panama there would have been no revolution. This was done notwithstanding the solemn treaty of peace and friendship that existed between the United States and Colombia under which the United States guaranteed to preserve Colombia's sovereignty on the Panama isthmus in return for certain rights and privileges which the United States had secured there."

"The pretense for all this was that Colombia had refused to accept United States terms as to the Panama canal. We were proposing to buy from the Panama Canal company, represented by Cromwell and other New York financiers, their rights to the Panama canal. Whatever rights they had come from Colombia. Our representatives drew up a treaty under which the United States was to pay the company and secure rights in the canal strip needed to perfect its title. Either government had a right to reject the treaty. It was naturally ratified by the United States, but Colombia finally rejected it because it had no power to surrender sovereignty over the strip without some amendment to its constitution. Colombia was absolutely within her rights."

Arbitration Treaty

Senator Hitchcock referred to the pending arbitration treaty as likely to lead to entanglements with Great Britain and said he would like to know why "some of these associations that are spending Andrew Carnegie's money and some of these orators talking for arbitration under his pay do not advocate arbitration of this claim of our sister republic."

SENATOR BRISTOW

Says Stephenson Corruptly Used Money

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Insisting that any act of corruption that contributes to nomination in a senatorial primary is just as culpable as if it occurred in election by a legislature Sen. Bristow of Kansas, yesterday urged the senate to reject the majority report of the committee on privileges and elections exonerating Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin of the charge that corrupt practices were employed in securing his election.

"I believe," said Senator Bristow, "the evidence shows that corrupt methods and practices were used, that Mr. Stephenson and his managers not

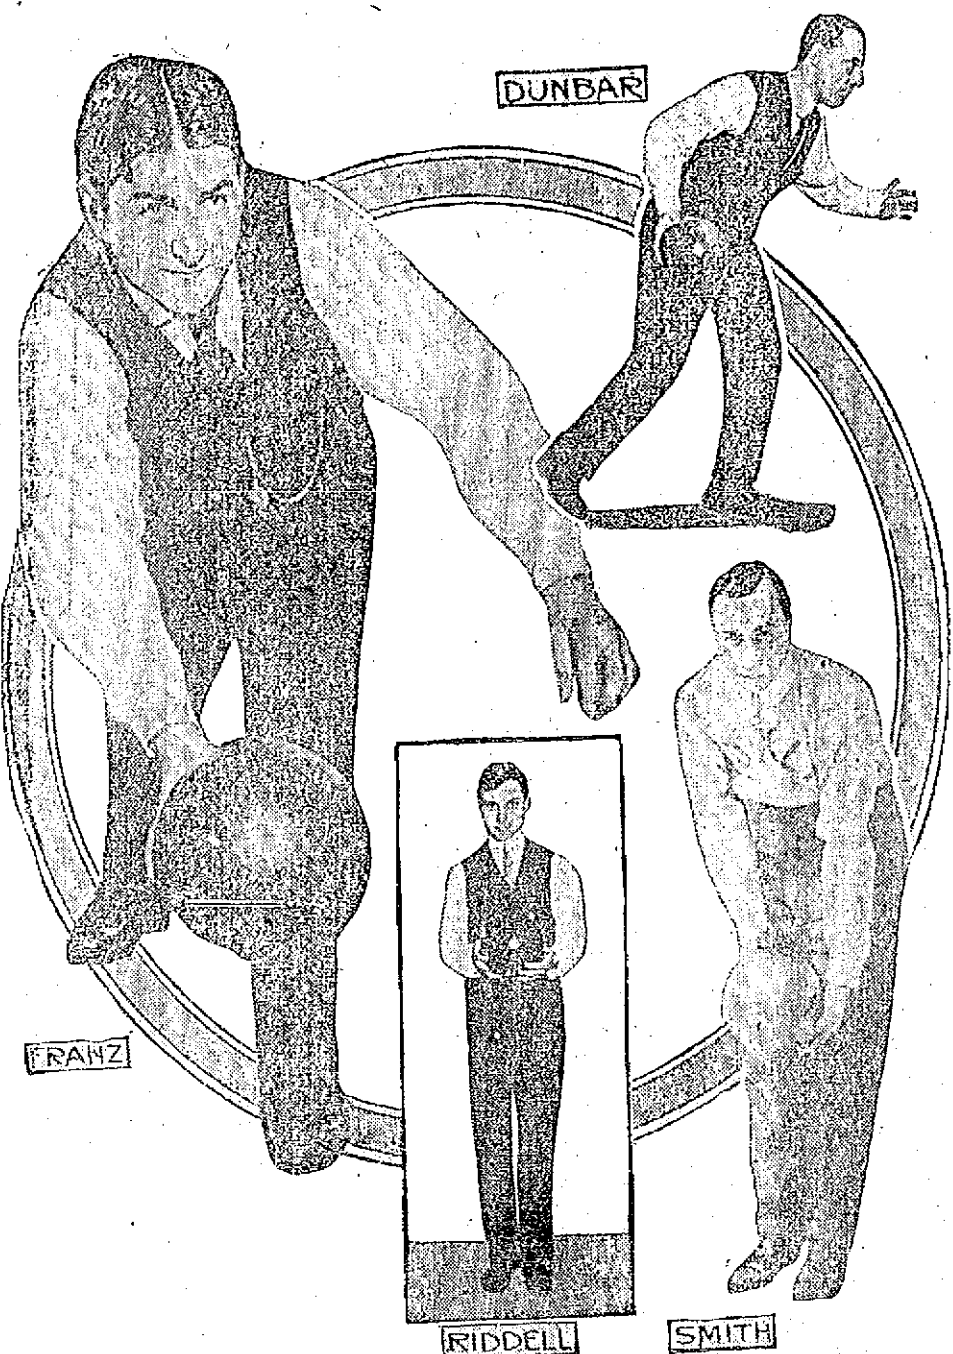

SENATOR DIXON TO BE IN CHARGE ROOSEVELT CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK, March 2.—Senator Joseph M. Dixon of Montana has been chosen to lead the executive committee of the national Roosevelt campaign and, with Truman H. Newberry, secretary of the party under Roosevelt, to lead the field forces in the fight to nominate Mr. Roosevelt for president. Mr. Newberry will head an administrative committee the other members of which are not yet announced. Immediately after the announcement was made that Senator Dixon would be in charge he issued a statement in which he says: "Straw votes everywhere, with the single exception of the financial district in the lower end of Manhattan island, have all told one unanimous story. In more than half a million votes so tested Colonel Roosevelt has led in the balloting by an average ratio of more than five to one over Mr. Taft and by a clear majority over all the candidates combined, both republican and democratic." The announcement of Mr. Dixon's selection was made by Alexander Revell of Chicago, chairman of the national Roosevelt committee, after a conference in which Colonel Roosevelt

Roosevelt, Senator Dixon, Chairman Revell, Medill McCormick and others had taken part. Dixon was Colonel Roosevelt's first choice as a campaign manager. He has long been a personal friend of Roosevelt. He is known in Washington as a "near insurgent." He has voted with the insurgent senators on most questions. Four years ago he was in charge of the speakers' bureau at the western headquarters of the republican national campaign. Once he was in very close political relations with President Taft. They had a clash near the close of Senator Carter's term last March, when the president turned down Senator Dixon's recommendation for the appointment of a United States marshal. More recently for United States district judge of Montana the president refused to appoint Judge Cheadle, who had been recommended by Senator Dixon, and named George M. Bourquin instead on the recommendation of Judge William H. Hunt of the United States commerce court and other conservative republicans of Montana. Senator Dixon is a native of North Carolina and is forty-five years old.

FOUR OF AMERICA'S BEST TEN PIN ARTISTS WHO MAY BOWL FOR WORLD'S TITLE

PATERSON, N. J., March 2.—It has long been a question of open debate as to who is the champion bowler of the world, Jimmy Smith of Buffalo, who totaled 2090 pins in three events at Toronto, Canada, recently, is considered by many to be title holder; but, then again, there are many western fans who think Glen Fisher or Dave Woodbury of Chicago ought to be given a look in when world's title holder is selected. Dave Franz of Cleveland also has a host of admirers, and Alex Dunbar and Glen Riddell of New York are not without their staunch supporters. A proposition has at last been made which appears as though it might furnish at least a temporary solution to this vexing question. The promoters of the sixth annual tournament of the National Bowling association, which is to be held in this city from March 9 to 20, have sent an invitation to each of the six bowlers to compete in a round robin tournament on the N. B. A. alleys and judging from present indications, the invitations will be accepted. In addition to a substantial cash inducement, the tournament committee will present the winner with a handsome metal emblem of the world's championship.

SOME FAST GAMES

Rolled on Local Alleys Last Night

Last night was a busy one on the local alleys and many good games were rolled. In the City league series the N. E. T. & Co. team and the Crescents met on the Crescent alleys and both teams took two points. The Phone team took the second string and the total while the Crescents captured the first and last strings. Bernadini was high man with a total of 322.

Team Two took all the points from Team One in the U. S. L. & S. Co. league series. The Middlex team won all the points from the Beachery quintet in a game on the Brunswick alleys. The Giants took all the points from the Merrimack repair shop team in their game on Les Miserables alleys. Two teams from the Kitson Machine shop met on Les Miserables alleys and Team One won all the points from Team Two.

In the Moody Bridge league series the Pawtucket Blues and the Uptowns split even in an interesting match. The Producers took two strings and the total from the Druggists in a good match on the Moody Bridge alleys. The Lowell postal clerks went to Lawrence last night and defeated the Lawrence clerks in a good bowling match. The Lowell team took all the points. The scores:

PEKING GATES SEIZED BY FOREIGN NATIONS TO PROTECT LEGATIONS

PEKING, March 2.—Peking is practically in the hands of a mob of unruly Chinese soldiers, and the foreigners have fled to the legation for protection. Two thousand soldiers, angered at not being paid, began burning and looting and were afterward joined by hundreds of police, coolies and loafers. The mobsters ran through the streets, burning and plundering on all sides. Thousands of shops were looted, principally those of dealers in gold and silver and art curios and pawnbrokers. Fusillades of shots were fired to intimidate the natives. Several shopkeepers who refused promptly to surrender their valuables were shot or bayoneted. The American is the most exposed legation, lying outside the main quadrangle of the quarter. The American end of Legation street is the only unclosed section. The legation recently considered the advisability of putting up barbed wire, but, not caring to excite Chinese suspicion, merely depended on sandbags and barbed wire, which have now been more effectively rearranged for defensive purposes. The legation garrison now numbers about 2000, and it is not anticipated the Chinese will attack the legations, their principal object being pillage. American soldiers have taken possession of the Chien-men pagoda, and the Germans have occupied the Hatamen pagoda without opposition from the Chinese soldiers. These pagodas surmount gates and overlook the legations, and their possession was considered strategically necessary. In the siege following the Boxer uprising of a dozen years ago foreigners were kept in the legations for months, and by the time the siege was raised sixty-seven legation members and guards were killed, 160 wounded, while the loss inflicted on the Chinese amounted to at least 2000.

MEN OF COMPANY K

Entertained Officials of Lawrence Duck Mills at Armory

Twenty-six of the officials of the Duck mills in Lawrence were entertained last night by the members of Company K. Sixth regiment, M. A. M. The men came on a special car and arrived at the armory in Western street at 8 o'clock. The evening's program consisted of a drill by the company, a dinner, and a fine entertainment. The visitors showed their appreciation of the entertainment by presenting them a picture of the Duck mills.

Upon their arrival the visitors were shown through the large and comfortable quarters of the company and then they were escorted to the gallery in the drill shed, while the company men went down on the floor for drill under command of Capt. James N. Greig and Lieut. C. Frank Dugan. The exhibition was very pleasing to the mill men who applauded enthusiastically.

At the conclusion of the drill the entire party repaired to the large mess room where an appetizing luncheon, which had been prepared by Cook Frederic and a couple of assistants, was served. During the meal excellent music was rendered by the orchestra of the company, which is composed of the following musicians: Serge, Walker, leader and pianist; Corp. Hanchey, Sergt. Shulton, Musicians Carl, Scott, Luce, Musician Girard and Private White. This part of the program was highly appreciated for the music was well rendered. Following the repast the usual after-dinner speeches were in order. Capt. Greig opened up with an address of welcome to the mill officials and explained to them the purpose of the gathering which was an expression of thanks for the way they were treated while on duty at the Duck mill in Lawrence a few weeks ago. His remarks were well received and they were followed by a brief address by Wallace Rose of Lawrence, who after complimenting the members of the company, presented them a handsome picture of the Duck mills, the frame of the picture being made of night watchmen's night sticks. Capt. Greig accepted the gift and assured the mill men it would occupy a conspicuous place in the company's quarters. Serjeant Major John McNece of Lawrence also spoke.

The tables were then cleared and a couple of boxing bouts occupied the attention of the gathering for a good length of time. The first to match was Peter Pearl and Private White. This bout was very interesting as both men are very clever with gloves. The other exhibition was given by Privates Freeman and William Hiltz of Co. K, and was the cause of much merriment.

Later the piano was removed to the company's quarters and an entertainment consisting of vocal and instrumental selections was rendered by the members of the company as well as by their guests. Cigars were passed during the evening and the visitors left at 11:30 o'clock to return to their homes after thanking their hosts for their cordial reception.

Those present from Lawrence were: Sergt. Major John McNece, field artillery; R. Duerden, E. Doncaster, A. Hurvey, D. Beaulieu, J. Hurley, Frank Weiden, Louis Redfield, Wallace Rose, Alfred Hurst, William H. Morris, Edward Walsh, H. A. Roy, C. J. Tierney, Arthur Stokler, Richard Bevin, M. Foster, J. Humphrey, William Mills, H. Kelley, John Beaudin, Charles T. Andrews, William Fowler, M. A. Dugan. The entertainment committee of Co. K was in charge of the entertainment. They are Privates McCarthy, chairman; Duval, Cashin, Manning and Hickey.

NORTH BILLERICA

The "Willing Workers" of the North Billerica church held a supper and entertainment in the church vestry last night. There was a large attendance of members of the parish and their friends and both the supper and entertainment were greatly enjoyed. Supper was served at 6:30 o'clock after which the entertainment was held. A humorous sketch was presented under the direction of Miss Minnie Clifford of this city. The program was as follows:

Ant. Sophrony, a maiden, Mrs. Haskell, Rose, her niece, Miss Clifford, Sam Hunt, in love with Rose, Mr. Bowen, Hezekiah Jehoshaphat Brown an old soldier, Mr. Hibbs. The piece was one of the funniest that has been presented at this church for a long time and the "actors" kept the audience in roars throughout. Two African maidens, whose identity was not announced, contributed to the general fun making by personal hits, songs, etc. The entertainment was of a delightful character from what has been presented here in the past and was a decided hit from beginning to end. In addition to the program given above songs were rendered by H. B. Ellis, Mrs. Carrie Bouch and Mrs. Frank E. Walker.

The general committee was in charge of Miss Lila Bottomley as chairman, Mrs. W. Carter, Mrs. John Carson, assisted by Mrs. J. Ritchie, Mrs. H. Eaton, Mrs. C. H. Williams, Mrs. T. M. Hanson, Mrs. A. Allen, Mrs. L. Hunt, Mrs. W. Chambers, Mrs. O. O. Ellis, Mrs. A. Ritchie, Mrs. J. Switzer, Mrs. C. Nickerson, Mrs. G. Richardson, Mrs. W. Sandline, Mrs. C. Manning, Mrs. R. T. Perry, Miss Florence Ruth, Charles Hickey, Spurgeon Williams, Charles Eaton, Warren Switzer. The ice cream committee was composed of the following ladies: Mrs. J. Switzer, Mrs. T. M. Hanson, Mrs. J. Ritchie, Mrs. H. Ellis, candy table, Miss Ethel Carson, Miss Bessie Allen, Rev. Charles H. Williams, the pastor of the church, door keepers during the evening's festivities.

The Nineteen Hundred club met at the home of Mrs. P. B. Kirschner in Billerica Centre the day before yesterday and the afternoon was spent in an enjoyable manner. The program of the afternoon was as follows: "Current Topics," Mrs. J. H. Date; "Alice Freeman Palmer," Mrs. Buck; "School Training and Home Making," Mrs. Bowman; "What Children Read and What They Should Read," Mrs. Sexton. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Kirschner, the hostess. She was assisted by Mrs. H. E. Jacobel and Miss Annie Sheild, who poured.

STATE OWNERSHIP

Object of an Attack in the Duma

ST. PETERSBURG, March 2.—A rather strong indictment of state ownership, as far as Russia is concerned, was made recently in the Duma, when the shortcomings in various branches of the Russian state management were illustrated in the report of a committee of inquiry read by Deputy Godunov.

The navy headed the list for ruinous neglect of the interests of the treasury as well as those of the service. One flagrant instance of lack of business method was given. In repairing the ice-breaker Yermak in England, one of its engines, costing $106,000, was removed. An offer to buy the discarded engine for $15,000 was made, but the Russian naval officers thought that a low price, and shipped the engine to Reval at a cost of $1,500. There it lay in the open for seven years and was finally sold for $600. Excessive allowances and inaccurate bookkeeping on voyages of Russian war vessels abroad were very frequent. The committee discovered that on the same day in the same port different vessels purchased coal at prices varying from $5.40 to $5.50 a ton.

The army showed similar mismanagement. In one case the treasury was the gainer because of the irregularity. At the Tobolsk stores 568,000 horseshoes were included in the books, while the committee discovered by counting that the actual supply stored was 1,367,000. The supply of nails to go with them was also more than double that entered. The usual experience, however, was to find the actual stocks far short of the amount recorded.

In the budget of the ministry of railways, next largest after the ministry of finance with its spirits monopoly, there was a deficit of $1,000,000 for the year 1908 on the budget of $260,500,000. This of course is ascribed to the greater cost of construction over that prevailing on private railroads and to other similar causes. On an average the state spent $10,101.50 more per verat (about a hundred) than private railroads. The Amur railroad is costing 10 to 15 per cent. more than the estimates. This line around Lake Baikal cost $5,000,000 more than the estimates, that being 20 per cent. of the entire cost.

The state iron works on the Urals show a similar unsatisfactory record, with a deficit totaling $5,000,000 for the last ten years. Rep. Godunov referred to the fact that this deficit occurred despite the membership of these state works in the combination of iron works which kept an unusually high level of prices which is not the province of the government to encourage.

Naphtha-bearing lands in the Caucasus were in arrears on their payment of the land-rent to the state. The sum now due from them amounted to $12,600,000.

A particular cause of grievance was the incredible habit of most ministries to obtain appropriations under one head and expended the money for other needs, thus depriving the Duma of a good deal of its effective control on the budget. Sums totaling $23,500,000 were thus transferred from one head to another in one year's budget alone.

Precious Metals Scarce

Scarcity of supply of the precious metals in the goldsmiths' and jewellers' trade has forced the government to undertake the retail sale of gold and silver. This so-called "gold famine" has caused heavy burdens to be made on the specie in circulation. Russian law threatens with heavy punishment the conversion of coin into metal by private individuals as well as the clipping of coin or its reduction in weight. Nevertheless, goldsmiths have recently been melting coin in large quantities, particularly at points distant from the principal government mints. This is done especially in the "bazaars," the large, marshy forest which covers a great part of Siberia. Hitherto gold in bars could be bought only at the mints in St. Petersburg, Moscow and Odessa. To meet the legitimate demands of the trade, the ministry of finance will hereafter sell gold in bars, planchets and sheets, 250 per thousand pure, at a fixed price, and allow the mint at St. Petersburg to sell pure metal in quantities up to 13 pounds of gold and 36 pounds of silver per applicant, to private individuals and government offices. A special distributing agency through the medium of government offices at points conveniently situated throughout the empire is now being organized.

Mayor Gaynor Who Rules Five Million People

1—Mayor Gaynor's house at St. James, N. Y. 2 and 8—Mayor Gaynor on a "bike." 3—Portrait of the mayor. 4, 7 and 9—On the farm. 5—Country schoolhouse attended by young Gaynor. 6—At his desk in New York city hall.

Mea. 1, 2, 4, 7 and 9 copyrighted by Brown Bros. No. 6 copyright by American Press Association.

NEW YORK has had many mayors, but not until William J. Gaynor took office had it ever had a former mayor not at least, since long before the war-torn at what is now Canal street, downtown, stepped being the northern boundary of the city. There have been merchants, lawyers, politicians—big men, all of them, but all of them much alike, typical New Yorkers, circumscribed by conventionalities.

Mayor Gaynor, on the other hand, is the most unconventional man with whom New York has been intimately associated for generations. He brought with him the fresh air of the country, with its gentleness and restfulness, but else with its notion, along with a conservative and decided personality. His studies shed with an analytical mind that discarded traditions and has a keenness that is widely different from the stereotyped forms so long in vogue, a chief that is a matter what his name is, more than once when in a re-entrant mood and among his intimate friends, the mayor has talked affectionately of his boyhood days on a none too prosperous farm at a little place called Skaneateles, near Utica, N. Y. "It was a hard place," he says. "It was a hard school. We worked hard and we ate little, and we did not always have enough to eat either." Some of the rail fences he built still stand.

Mayor and Practical Farmer.

There are many ways in which Mayor Gaynor is far out of the ordinary, and in all of them—in his manner of thought, his plainness and directness of speech and, in fact, his whole philosophy of life, he is more suggestive of the that and greatest of the martyred presidents than any man who has been in public life for half a century. Not only is he proud of the fact that he was born on a farm, but he clings to it as a sacred relic. He has a small farm at St. James, N. Y. It is a real farm, too, without any frills or fads, but such a one as might be found in Iowa or Nebraska, despite the fact that it is within two hours of the metropolis. The mayor goes out there at the end of the week for a breathing spell and to get close to nature. In the spring he helps the hired men put in the crops, and in the fall he takes part in the harvesting. He knows how everything should be done and he watches closely to see that all things are done properly.

In the evenings he foregoeth at the little country store with the neighbors. To them he is not the mayor of New York, but "Jedek" Gaynor, simple, unassuming, neighborly, as he has always been. Because he has always kept close to the people and studied conditions, even when he was on the supreme bench and theoretically far removed from contact with the world, the mayor knows what the people want and understands their needs.

Still, there are some people who, from selfish motives, do not want such a man as mayor of New York. They have found that he has no ingrained respect for "vested interests" and all that sort of thing. When it was announced that the mayor started out they tried to turn him away to Albany with the bait of the Democratic nomination for governor. The mayor bluntly refused to become a candidate. He "wanted to finish his job in the city."

With the activity in national politics which, according to the almanacs, is always to be expected about this time, the mayor came to be regarded as a presidential possibility. It was asserted that he could carry New York without making a fight, and it was believed by many people that his would be a name to confound with throughout the country. It was recently announced by one of his supposed friends that plans were being made to present his name to the Democratic national convention as a compromise candidate. The mayor, who seems to delight in disrupting precedents and setting politicians by the ears, spiked that gun as promptly as he had nailed the other one.

"I am not a candidate for or aspirant to any office," he declared. "All I want is to be let alone. I want to make a good job as I can of being mayor."

This unconventional chief executive is a great advocate of walking as an exercise, and, as in everything else, he practices what he preaches. At sixty years of age he is in perfect health and every day, practically, he walks to and from his home in Brooklyn to the city hall regardless of the weather. Men who would fear to approach him within the dimly lit confines of the city hall have no hesitancy in going up to him and telling him their troubles on the street. Yet he is quick to detect the genuine unfortunates from the counterfeiters. During the last holiday season he discovered that Brooklyn bridge was infested with professional "panhandlers" who were preying on the crossing crowds. He notified the commissioner of police before any one else, and the annoyance was stopped.

Helped a Civil War Veteran. On one of the coldest mornings of the winter as he was swinging across the bridge he was approached by an old man, plainly in distress, who apologetically asked assistance.

"I ought not to have to beg," he explained, "for I am an old soldier, but I am almost starved and nearly frozen."

"Don't you get a pension?" asked the mayor sharply.

"No, sir. I am entitled to one, but I never have been able to get it. My weak eyes were steady and his tone honest. The mayor's voice, which had been stern, became sympathetic.

"I can take you over temporarily," he said, "but you are entitled to permanent assistance. Come with me."

In the basement of the city hall is a room set apart for the use of the Grand Army of the Republic in which to receive applications for aid from old soldiers. The mayor escorted his ward to this room. The young man in charge of it was reading, with his feet on the desk and seemed annoyed at being disturbed.

"Here," said the mayor, indicating the impoverished veteran, "is an old soldier who is entitled to assistance." The clerk, who was of the type known as "fresh," lazily started to ask a number of irrelevant questions. "Who are you, anyway?" he pertinently inquired when the mayor expressed some impatience with his manner.

"It ought not to make any difference," was the quiet reply, "but it may interest you to know that I am the mayor of this town, and," as his voice took on a harsh tone—"if you don't give this old man the attention he has earned and treat him with respect I'll have you thrown out of this building in two minutes."

The clerk gasped, begged a thousand pardons and summoned an officer from an inner room, with profuse assurances that the troubled veteran would be well cared for. The clerk himself told the story.

An Earnest Fan of Golf.

Reviewing some of the difficulties which have been encountered by his administration, Mayor Gaynor said: "We have got to get rid of all this petty graft and meanness in the government of the city if we can. How discouraging it is that many men who are honest enough, as they go about among us, seem to feel that no such rule of honesty blinds them when they get into the employ of the city or have dealings with it." This well illustrated the Gaynor point of view. How much annual graft has been abolished since he took office! It is impossible to state or even closely estimate. Certainly it runs into the tens of millions, probably into the hundreds of millions.

He took the police in hand and by vigorous measures put an end to clubbing, to indiscriminate arrests for minor offenses and to the wholesale photographing of prisoners and placing their pictures in the rogues' gallery without regard to their innocence or guilt. All undue interference with the rights of the citizen was eliminated. Favoritism was done away with and political, social and religious influences became an unknown quantity for the first time in generations.

The mayor is not a fanatical. There are many instances of his broadmindedness and practically effective methods of accomplishing results.

Following up his ceaseless war on graft and favoritism the mayor directed that the civil service system be extended to cover every department of the city government and that all appointments be made in numerical order, just as they were certified by the civil service commission. One of the mayor's pet theories is that party politics have no place in purely local affairs.

WENTWORTH HALL

Old Dartmouth Dormitory Was Damaged

HANOVER, N. H., March 2.—Fire broke out about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Wentworth hall, the oldest dormitory at Dartmouth, and for an hour kept the Volunteer fire department and the students busy at work.

The flames confined themselves to the woodwork between the roof and upper story and before great damage could be done they were extinguished. The students, some 45 of whom room in the historic building, threw their effects out of the windows.

The cause of the fire is thought to be from electric wiring. The dormitory was erected in 1810 and is situated just north of the new Dartmouth hall, which replaces the original building destroyed by fire in 1904. It forms the north building of "the old row."

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Soldon does an author portray such an important character as that of a Catholic priest, and have it meet with approval from the clergy. But this is not all. The author of "The Rosary," which will be seen at the Opera House next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in "The Rosary," Mr. Rose has drawn a character of Rev. Brian Kelly, a Catholic priest, who adjusts troubles between man and wife, and shows the unlimited amount of good that can be done by a real man, a big man of faith, strength and conviction. The character has been endorsed by the clergy all over the country, and it is said to be the strongest of its kind ever presented on the American stage. The character will be portrayed by Harrington Reynolds, an exceptional artist, who goes through his work convincingly the audience that he has mastered the author's conception of the role. The rest of the cast is the same as seen in Boston and New York.

THOMAS E. SHEA
Thomas E. Shea will be the attraction at the Opera House soon. Mr. Shea brings with him an entire new production for his new play, "A Man and His Wife." This is the piece that Mr. M. H. Woods promised him last season and from present indications it will prove one of the best things of the season.

GOT RICH QUICK WALLINGFORD

George M. Cohan's great American play "Got Rich Quick Wallingford," is the most talked about comedy produced in the past decade. The initial performance in this city at the Opera House, which is the only one of the genuinely enjoyable anticipated events of the current season.

THE SUN'S DAILY PICTURE PUZZLE

HOW TO SUCCEED.
The road to success?
You may travel it now.
Here's the method I guess.
Do the best you know how.
Find a failure.
ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.
Upside down in lady's hair.

song writer and producer of international reputation. Mr. Edwards is presenting the headline bill at Keith's next week and it is one of the best he has ever put on. The fact that the act bears Gus Edwards' name is sufficient guarantee of its worth. It is entitled "The Country Kids," and includes five boys, four girls and a Teddy bear. "Miss Rose's Birthday Party" is the title of the act. The musical numbers are by Mr. Edwards and he personally stages the production. Chick Sale, the indomitable protean comedian, will give his celebrated "Country School" act. He presents the characters of the school children, the prin school marm, the all-wise "destrict" committeeman and the town constable. The act is a continuation of land larks. Gladys and Scarlet have a novel singing act presenting the old, old songs of antebellum days, presenting them in the old time way. It's an act that touches the heart. Claude Miller and Virginia Zollman present "The Woman Who Dared," a fine bit of comedy. Dan and Jessie Blatz, just back from a successful tour of Europe, give music, instrumental and vocal, wit and repartee and dancing. Fred Jarvis and Ivy Leighton, "The Fellow and Girl on the Beach" have a most enjoyable offering in the comedy line. Hannon and Hannon are premier gymnasts with a clean act of daring stunts. Whittemore's wild bronchos from a Montana ranch do wonderful equine stunts. Their act is entirely different from the general run of equine acts and is a novelty. A strong bill has been arranged for tomorrow's concert.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

The concluding performances of "Sunset Trail," a deeply interesting play of the romantic wild west, will be presented today, and next week the Le Roy stock company will be seen in John Lawrence's great drama, "The Preacher and the Convict," a play of deep human interest. A well known actress, who has been successful in amateur theatricals, will make her first appearance with the company. In addition to the regular performance, between the acts there will be singing and moving pictures so that there will be something doing all the time. Mr. Frank Harrington, the singing member of the company, made a big hit this week with his song, "Mr. Harrington was formerly with the Boston Thompson's 'Old Homestead' Double Quartet, and is a pupil of the New England Conservatory of Music. 'The Preacher and the Convict' will be fine staged and all the members of the company will be seen in congenial roles. Seats for the concluding performance of "Sunset Trail" and for "The Preacher and the Convict" may be ordered in advance by telephone 511. The prices are: Matinees, 10 and 20 cents; Evenings, 10, 20 and 30 cents, and no more.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The return of Miss Constance Jackson as a member of the Grand Opera Company in Sidney Grandy's favorite three-act farcical comedy, "Old Uncle John," will be learned with pleasure by the large number of patrons of this playhouse. Miss Jackson, whose efforts of the past have made her extremely popular with the numerous playgoers here, has been resting for the past two weeks at her home in Montreal, Canada, and will resume her duties on Monday with renewed effort to again please her many friends in Lowell. "Old Uncle John" is a delightful offering, one of Grandy's best endeavors, and should, under the careful and efficient hands of Keadal Weston, produce one of the biggest hits of the season. Besides Mr. Weston and Miss Jackson, the cast will include Charles Stevens, and West LaFay, the latter a Lowell boy who has made good in the theatrical profession. Mr. LaFay was at one time associated with the Huntington-DeLynn stock company. The play will be properly staged.

Miss Anna McMahon, soloist, whose singing is always received with favor, will be heard in "The Song Review," which will include one of her best numbers, "Waiting." The others on the bill are "The Tremont Quartet," recognized as vaudeville's sweetest singers, and comedy producers, Fritz's

THEATRE VOYONS

"Tonight is the last of the showing of 'Children Who Labor' at the Theatre Voyons. This picture dealing with the problem of child labor is one of the best staged and acted yet seen. Its story well and clearly told, deals with a little girl, the child of a mill owner who by a whim of fate is compelled to go to work in her father's mill. Her discovery of her and what she and her family do to aid the little ones in the factories is well told. On Monday, 'Diamond's Ranch,' a western picture depicting life on a big ranch will be shown.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

HE KNEW.
Mrs. Homer—Willie, did you give your little brother the best part of the pear?
Willie—Yes, I gave him the center part that contained all the seeds. He can plant 'em and have a whole lot of pears.

IT CERTAINLY IS.
Parker—Do you think it patriotic of Dobbs to send his daughter to Europe to study music?
Harper—Sure, I do; think of the suffering he's saving his own countrymen.

STRIKE MAY END NEXT WEEK

THE OPERATIVES

Favor Acceptance of Concessions
Granted by the Mill Men

LAWRENCE, March 2.—The general textile situation here today strongly indicated that the industrial struggle which began on Jan. 72 would be ended next week. A large percentage of the idle operatives favor the acceptance of the concessions announced by nearly all of the mill owners of Lawrence. These concessions include an advance of wages over the scale paid under the 54-hour law of at least five per cent.

The mill owners have not officially recognized either the Industrial Workers of the World or the United Textile Workers of America but have handled the situation through the representatives of their own employees.

It develops that an important element in the ranks of organized labor is in favor of having the strike declared off on the ground that the strikers have obtained all they asked for originally and that they can consistently claim a victory. This element fears that should the struggle be prolonged the unions would be unable to keep the strikers out of the mills, thereby allowing the strike to collapse and giving the mill owners an opportunity to claim a victory over the Industrial Workers of the World and the United Textile Workers of America. The opinion was practically general in Lawrence today that the end of the strike is in sight. Notices of an advance in wages have been given thus far by textile manufacturers in New England employing upwards of 50,000 operatives when the mills are running on full time. The number affected by the coming change in the wage schedule in this city follows:

American Woolen Co. (Wood mills) 5500; Washington, 5800; Ayer, 2500; Prospect, 500; Arlington mills, 5500; Pacific cotton mills, 5000; Atlantic cotton mills, 1000; Lawrence Duck Co., 1000; Pemberton cotton mills, 700; Methuen cotton mills, 300; United States Worsted Co., 500.

Among the independent mills which have followed the lead of the Arlington mills in posting notices of an advance next Monday are the three plants of the M. T. Stevens & Sons Co., in North Andover and Haverhill, Mass., and Franklin, N. H. The Stevens mills employ 2000. A number of other mills are expected to post notices of an advance within a short time.

NO TROUBLE FEARED

In Lowell as Result of Lawrence Strike---
Wages May be Increased

What effect will the five per cent. increase granted in Lawrence have on the Lowell mills?

This question is being widely asked in Lowell and it is not at all surprising that great interest is being manifested in the situation as it stands at the present time.

Mill agents and other mill officials are not disposed to discuss the situation but they are a unit in declaring that the business does not warrant an increase at this time. The financial condition of at least two of the local cotton mills is anything but encouraging.

The mill workers asked for an increase of ten per cent. the first of the year and that is only two months ago. They were told at that time that conditions were such as to render it impossible to grant the request but that an increase would be granted just as soon as business would so improve as to warrant it.

A reporter for The Sun who has talked with a great many mill men within the last few days has received a great many different views on the subject and so far as getting anything definite as to what will be done under the present circumstances if the Lowell mills will follow suit with Lawrence, none of those interviewed would make any definite statement.

"That's a matter that will be settled in Boston," said one mill man, "and until such time as the voice is heard in Boston we will be as much in the dark as yourself. We are not anticipating any trouble at this time and the situation in Lowell never could, in my estimation, be a very dangerous one, for the very reason that our class of help is much more intelligent than in the average mill city. Then again I feel that there is a much better understanding by the mill operatives and operators, or the latter's agents, than ever before and I believe that the average operative feels that the local mills are disposed to do the very best they can for their help.

"I have not heard any complaints and I think I would have heard something about it if any had been going on. Our operatives are not afraid to talk with their overseers, bosses or the agent himself, for that matter, for they are intelligent people and know that if they have complaints to make they should make them to their employers rather than to outsiders."

"How do wages in Lowell compare with wages in Lawrence?" queried the reporter.

"I think they are about the same," replied the mill man.

"Do you mean that they are about the same now or about the same before the increase was granted in Lawrence?"

"Well, I would say, for a guess, that with the increase the wages in the Lawrence cotton mills would be a little higher than in Lowell. I would have to look the matter up, however, to be sure about it."

"You believe that the mill operatives of Lowell are entitled to as good wages as are paid in Lawrence?"

"Yes, indeed. I doubt if there is a city in the country that has a more intelligent class of mill operatives than Lowell and the best is none too good for them; but you must not lose sight of the fact that circumstances alter cases. I presume there are mills in Lowell that might pay a small increase and pull along on the ragged edge, so to speak, but there are other mills that could not afford it. You may put it right down in your little book that there are mills in Lowell today that are turning and not making a cent and I might make that statement even stronger."

An official of one of the Textile unions when asked if there is any danger of a strike in Lowell, said he did not think so. "I believe the mill operatives can reach an agreement with the agents on the wage question without a strike and without any course that would interrupt business."

FACTORY CHILDREN AMERICAN TROOPS

From Lawrence Appeared Before Are to Be Sent From Philippines
Congressional Committee to China

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The factory boy and the factory girl had their first innings in congress today when they appeared as witnesses before the rules committee of the house, which is considering the necessity for an investigation of the Lawrence, Mass., strike.

Ten boys and three girls, a part of the striking army of woolen mill workers, reported to tell the committee the hardships of life under the working conditions imposed by the mill owners. The committee, seeking full information, called the children as witnesses.

THE FISH WARDEN

Helps Out the Local Fishermen

If it wasn't for Harry Gonzales, the fishermen in these parts would have dropped their playthings for another season or would have gone to some other state in search of the finny tribe, for the legislature had passed an act establishing a close season on pickerel. The act reads as follows: Section 1.—It shall be unlawful for a person to take or have in possession picked between the first day of March and the first day of May of any year.

Section 2.—Violation of this act shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each offence. (Approved Feb. 16, 1912.)

Now here's where Harry Gonzales, the recently elected fish warden got in his fine work. He thought that the thing was kind of sudden and went to Boston to find out about it and he found out that the act will not take effect until March 17 and notices to that effect have been posted by the fish and game commission. The act was signed by the governor on February 16, but contained no provision that it should take effect "upon its passage," and therefore is not in force until 30 days after it has been signed by the governor.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—There are now 1000 foreign troops of various nationalities in that part of China, bordering the gulf of Pechili and lying between Peking and Chwang Tao. The greater part of this force is disposed along the line of the railway that connects Peking with the sea. The majority being near Tien Tsin or three hours by rail from the capital.

If the international force in China is to be strengthened as a result of events in Peking probably the first reinforcement must come from Japan and from the Russian garrisons in northern Manchuria. The war department stands ready to see that the United States is fairly represented in any augmented force. The American troops, like the last reinforcements for China, must come from the Philippines. The big army transport Sheridan is now lying at Manila about to embark several regiments. The transport Sherman, outward bound from San Francisco, also is due at Manila next Monday.

AMERICANS WARNED

To Keep Out of Mexico For Present

WASHINGTON, March 2.—At a cabinet conference at the White House today it was deemed expedient that President Taft issue a proclamation urging citizens of the United States to comply strictly with the neutrality laws of the United States in all matters affecting Mexico. In effect the proclamation is a warning to Americans to stay out of Mexico at this time.

$35,000 DAMAGE

Caused by a Fire at Limestone, Me.

LIMESTONE, Me., March 2.—Fire today destroyed four frame buildings on Main street in the center of this town. The loss is estimated at $35,000 partly covered by insurance. The cause is unknown.

Starting in a hall on the second floor of a two story building owned by Louis Cyr and occupied by his general store on the ground floor, the flames spread rapidly. This building was burned, together with the two-story Charles Perry building containing a general store, the two-story Durpee building and a one-story structure occupied by W. H. Webster's undertaking rooms. The firemen had a hard fight to prevent the fire from spreading to other buildings. No one was injured.

First C. Church carried the insurance on the automobile of Isaac W. Wotton damaged by fire this afternoon.

THE TAX INCOMES THE MINERS' STRIKE FIREMEN IN DANGER

Democrats Adopt Plan Together With Free Sugar Bill

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A bill to put sugar on the free list, abolishing $300,000 in annual customs revenue, and another to extend the present corporation tax to include individuals and partnerships having an income of $5000 a year or over, were ratified last night by the House Democratic caucus.

The excise tax, as called for by the ways and means committee, is in effect an income tax. The bill is so drawn that it is expected to comply with the Supreme court's decision against the constitutionality of an income tax. Its effect would be to tax every person who earns more than $5000 a year on the excess of $5000 at the rate of 1 per cent.

The estimate by Chairman Underwood is that the proposed excise tax would bring in a revenue of between $20,000,000 and $60,000,000 a year. Placing sugar on the free list, the Democratic leaders estimate, will reduce the price of sugar to the consumer about a cent and a half a pound.

The secret that members of the committee had been so closely guarding for several days was the provision to extend the corporation tax.

President Would Pay $700

In the caucus that bill was not seriously opposed. But the free sugar bill was bitterly assailed by representatives from Louisiana, the cane sugar state, and representatives from sugar-belt growing states who were absorbed from the bond of the caucus. No roll-call on the ratification of the bills was demanded.

Mr. Underwood announced that the bill would be reported to the House in a few days.

"We simply took the corporation tax law and rewrote it to include individuals and co-partnerships," said Mr. Underwood last night. "The bill, to illustrate, simply means that I, whose business is that of a member of Congress, will pay to the government 1 per cent of my salary income over $5000. The salary of a congressman is $7200. I would therefore pay an excise tax of $20 a year."

"The president of the United States, should the proposed bill become a law, would pay 1 per cent on $70,000, or $700, his salary being $70,000."

Provisions of Sugar Bill

The sugar bill submitted to the caucus would abolish the much-debated Dutch standard test and it contains the following provisions:

"Sugars, tank bottoms, syrups of cane juice, melacha, concentrated melacha, concrete and concentrated molasses, maple sugar, maple syrup, refined syrups, glucose or grape sugar and sugar cane, shall be admitted free of duty."

"Sugarcane, 65 cents per pound duty."

"Sugar candy and all confectionery not specially provided for in this act or in the first section of the act cited for amendment, valued at 15 cents per pound or less, and sugars after being refined, when fractured, colored, or in any way adulterated, 2 cents per pound, valued at more than 15 cents per pound, 25 cents per centum ad valorem. The weight and the value of the immediate coverings, other than the outer packing case or other covering, shall be included in the dutiable weight and the value of the merchandise."

Effect of it Felt in Other Industries in Great Britain

LONDON, March 2.—The great ports of the United Kingdom, particularly those situated in Wales, from which coal is shipped to every part of the world and the centers of the iron and steel industries, have naturally been the first to feel the effects of the strike of over 1,000,000 coal miners in England, Scotland and Wales. Many iron works in various districts were closed today and at Swansea and elsewhere the docks have come practically to a standstill. No vessels are arriving and the dockers and workmen employed in the local industries have been thrown out of work. Great crowds of these men gathered in the streets discussing the dispute.

Thus far there have been no disturbances anywhere. In South Wales, however, the mine owners are preparing for emergencies. They have had walls built around the mines and have laid in great stores of provisions in anticipation of a long siege.

The railroad and street car systems in many cities have been still further curtailed today.

Only two small non-union mines in the entire country are still at work. One of these is in North Wales and the other near Berwick on the Scottish border.

LABOR WINS VICTORY

Liability Co.'s Shut Out in Workmen's Compensation Act

BOSTON, March 2.—The most important decision of any committee on Beacon Hill yesterday was that of the Judiciary against the amendment of the workmen's compensation act by striking out the section under which private insurance companies are given the right to insure employers who accept the terms of the act.

It is the one big thing of the year on Beacon Hill from the point of view of organized labor, which will oppose the committee report in the legislature.

As the act stands an employer may agree to pay compensation and thereby relieve himself of the burden of liability to suits at law. He is able to secure in a state insurance company, created by the act, or is able to insure in any private company.

The labor men have opposed the insurance feature on the ground that the private companies should not be permitted to do business under the protection of the act. There was a decided tendency of employers at the state house hearing to want the right to insure in the private companies.

The act as it first reported last year shut out the liability companies. But it was amended in the Senate and the House accepted the Senate amendment.

There are a number of other amendments to the act still in committee. The principal one is to increase the size of the industrial accident board from three to five members and decrease the salaries from $5000 and $5000 to $4500 and $4000.

The bill reported adversely yesterday is on the petition of John W. Sherman, counsel for the American Federation of Labor.

At $50,000 Blaze in Boston This Morning

BOSTON, March 2.—Fire early today destroyed the six-story brick building at 210 State street, occupied by the Atlantic Maritime Co., wholesale grocers. The loss will reach $50,000. Starting from spontaneous combustion the fire swept through the building rapidly and three alarms were sounded.

Frequent hot air explosions made it extremely dangerous for the firemen and there were several narrow escapes as they fought the flames from ladders thrown against the building. The whole inside of the building was burned out, fireproof walls preventing the flames from spreading to adjoining structures. Torrents of water were poured into the burning building by the great deckguns and water tower.

SENTENCED TO PRISON

Leaders of London Suffragettes Must Serve Two Months

LONDON, March 2.—Mrs. Pankhurst, Mrs. Tukes and Mrs. Marshall, the three leaders of last evening's window smashing campaign by which the suffragettes almost succeeded in terrorizing the London tradesmen, were today sentenced each to two months' imprisonment. They were the first three of the 124 women who were arrested in the course of the street demonstrations and who are to be arraigned at the Bow street police court chiefly on charges of causing wilful damage to stores in Bond street, Piccadilly street, Regent street, Oxford street, the Haymarket and the Strand, as well as other busy shopping streets.

The attorney for the prosecution announced in court today that the total damage done by the suffragettes in their stone throwing manifestations was estimated at $25,000, and on behalf of the government he stated that the time had now arrived when the consideration which had been hitherto shown in connection with suffragette raids could no longer be allowed. The sentences of the three leaders were received with applause.

KILLED IN NEW SUBWAY

BOSTON, March 2.—The first fatality in the new Cambridge subway occurred today when James E. Quinn fell from a trial train which was going over the new route. Quinn was standing outside the car when a gust of wind carried away his hat. He made a grab for it, lost his balance and fell under the wheels of the car. Quinn was 20 years old and an employee of the Boston Elevated railroad.

The new Cambridge route is to be opened in a few weeks.

AT MILL GATES

DELEGATIONS COLLECTED FOR LAWRENCE STRIKERS

Delegations of men and women representing the mill operatives of Lawrence, who are on strike at the present time, came to this city today and at noon took up positions at the gates of the different mills soliciting aid.

Some of the persons who were collecting had paper credentials attached to their clothing and also badges bearing the inscription "Don't be a Scab." Each person had a porcelain cup and the majority of the collectors kept shouting "Help the Lawrence strikers!"

FIRE IN CELLAR

Caused Alarm but Little Damage Resulted

The residence of Mr. Charles O. Allen at 70 Warwick street was damaged by fire late yesterday afternoon as a result of his boy starting a fire in a pile of wood in the cellar. It appears that the boy had been out coasting and entered the basement and started a fire in the wood pile.

The blaze had been smoldering for a long time before it was discovered by the occupants of the house. The odor of smoke which permeated the house attracted the attention of Mrs. Allen. She telephoned to the fire department and two minutes later an alarm from box 81 was sent in.

When the fire department reached the house the fire was raging fiercely, but it was soon extinguished.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the furniture in the house.

VIRGINIAN NEGROES

Will Contest Delegation to the Convention

NORFOLK, Va., March 2.—Open warfare against the Virginia republican organization will be undertaken by the 7000 negro voters in the state if plans of negro leaders gathered here materialize. These leaders have issued a call for a state convention at Richmond in April for the election of delegates to the national republican convention. It is proposed to have these delegates contest the seats of those sent to Chicago by the regular state convention.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The regular weekly Lenten devotions were given last night in St. John's church. Stations of the cross followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by Rev. Fr. Doherty. A very large congregation was present. The pastor is very much pleased with the attendance at the devotions each week.

After the services last night a meeting of the members of the Tabernacle society was held to make arrangements for the St. Patrick's night entertainment to be held in the town hall. Miss Charlotte Lowe is chairman of the committee and she is to be assisted by members of the society.

The members of the Catholic club are to tender a reception in St. John's hall tomorrow night to the lady members of the cast of "The District School" recently presented, and the young ladies of the tabernacle and auxiliary societies.

FACTORY INSPECTION

Dean Gay Says Massachusetts is Far Behind in This Respect

BOSTON, March 2.—Dean E. F. Gay, head of the Harvard School of Business Administration, told the suffragists yesterday that the Massachusetts system of factory inspection is the worst in the country.

It was at the second legislative luncheon of the Boston Equal Suffrage association at the Twentieth Century club yesterday, at which he explained the factory inspection bill (H. 1235), which has its final hearing before the house committee on labor Wednesday.

He said in part:

"Our system of factory inspection is behind that of other states in both Europe and America, and it cannot go any farther without a radical change. In the first place the state board of health, which has charge of removing devices in factories, does not, with all its excellencies as a board of physicians, understand anything about mechanical arrangements for removing dust. Having charge of sanitary arrangements, it has no police right over buildings and the state police have no orders from the board of health. The authority should not be divided in this scatter-brain fashion."

"House bill 1235 brings all labor legislation under the control of one body representing various interests, and this board will select the best labor commissioner he can find. If he cannot be found in this state he can be found outside."

On Minimum Wage

Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes Tilton of Concord, a member of the state commission appointed by the Gov. to investigate the minimum wage law, said:

DIG UP OLD SUIT

Action Against Thos. F. Ryan for Slander

NEW YORK, March 2.—A hundred thousand dollar suit for slander against Thomas F. Ryan, the financier, which has long slumbered in a pigeon hole of the desk of the supreme court clerk, came to light yesterday when Louis E. Julien, the plaintiff, filed a bond for costs upon order of the supreme court. Julien played an important part four years ago in the investigation of the Metropolitan Street Railway company's affairs.

The suit was filed in March, 1905, and has been on the calendar of the supreme court ever since. It grew out of the investigation conducted here in March, 1905, into the conduct of William T. Jerome, then district attorney, during this investigation Julien gave testimony which in substance charged Mr. Ryan with covering the nomination of a certain supreme court justice, in answer to the charges according to the complaint Mr. Ryan stated later in an interview "There is not the slightest truth in the assertion here whatever."

This remark Julien asserts, was slanderous.

POLICE COURT

This morning's session of the police court was very short, there being but one offender who appeared before Judge Tildeman. The defendant was Edward Monahan who entered a plea of guilty to a charge of being drunk. Owing to his condition it was deemed advisable to send him to jail for ten days.

MANY NEW BUILDINGS To Be Erected in the Highlands and Pawtucketville

If plans mature a number of new buildings will be erected in the Highlands and Pawtucketville in the course of the summer. As it is, several new apartment houses are being constructed in those two districts. The contractors are Arthur Genest and Avila Sawyer. The former has already five foundations built in Forrest street and yesterday he received a carload of wood so the work will be pushed along rapidly. Mr. Genest has about 20 lots he intends to build upon in the vicinity of St. Margaret's church and a large gang of men will soon be put to work there.

Contractor Sawyer has four houses in Parker street nearly finished. There are two cottages and two two-apartment houses. He will also build several others in that vicinity as he owns a large tract of land on that street, and already the engineers have divided it into building lots. As soon as the ground is cleared out the foundations will be started for about ten houses. Mr. Sawyer is now building a three-apartment house at the corner of White street and Woodcock avenue. He has also started work on a two-apartment house in St. James street, this building being put up for Mr. Thomas Sheehan. Four other houses will soon be started in Crawford street and four in Braut street. In addition to these buildings, Mr. Sawyer has purchased the residence of Mr. Joseph Bernard in White street.

The New Grain House

The work on the new grain house of J. B. Cover in Middle street which is being built by Contractor Patrick Conlon is progressing rapidly. The building is of brick and the workmen have now reached the roof. Mr. Conlon has also several alterations jobs on hand.

Mr. Ephrem Pelletier, the Merrimack street merchant is contemplating the erection of a large building at the corner of Merrimack and Decatur streets. It will be a large strip of land at that corner on which an old wooden house stands. The latter is to be torn down and in its place a brick building is to be erected. In conversation with a San reporter Mr. Pelletier said he has not as yet decided as to the nature of the house to be erected. The contractors are now figuring on plans and it may be a couple of weeks before the plans and figures are submitted. In all probability the building will be several stories high with stores on the first floor and flats on the others.

Contractor Roderick Descheneaux has nearly finished a handsome two-apartment house.

TEXTILE SCHOOL NEWS

The Pupils are Arranging Several Events

The 1912 Textile show, given yearly under the auspices of the L. T. S. Athletic association, is beginning to take form. The date of the show has been fixed for Friday evening, March 22, in Colonial hall. The show management this year is in the hands of a lively committee composed of William P. Goodale '12, general manager, George T. Hartshorn '12, business manager, Charles H. Rayner '13, Gordon E. Elliott '12, A. W. Lamb '14, Robert E. McNellis '13, and John R. Frost '12. The committee and those taking part in the entertainment are using every means to place this year's exhibition far ahead of those of previous years.

The program includes a laughable one-act sketch, "An Easy Mark," a clever skit by Robert McNellis '13 and William Goodale '12; magical stunts by William Goodale '12, and the Textile Minstrels with James R. Pettigrew '12 as interloper, Mr. Edward Barker, a professor in the whole department of the school, has charge of the drilling, staging, etc. of the show.

A special feature of dancing after the show will also be made much of this year and Hubbard's orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

Mr. Osborne McArthur '12, a popular member of the sophomore class, was suddenly taken ill Thursday and is to be operated upon for appendicitis early in the coming week. Mr. McArthur was removed today to his home in Waterdown, Mass.

The following students have been appointed as a committee to arrange for "Up-stream Day": Leroy Tait '11, Geo. Robertson '14, E. Dean Wain '12, Richardson P. Jefferson '12, Edwin Crane '12, Robert Jumont '12, and Alexander Thomson '13.

"Up-stream Day" is fast becoming a feature of the Textile school year and is one day when teachers and students mingle as one and enjoy each other's company in a day's outing up the Merrimack river.

A series of basketball games is soon to be played between the sections of the freshman class to decide the championship of the school. The first game in the series will be played Tuesday afternoon.

DEFINES VINEGAR

Labels Must Tell if It is Diluted

WASHINGTON, March 2.—What vinegar is in the United States is determined by a decision of the department pure food board, signed yesterday by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson.

The decision holds that when natural vinegars are diluted with water to reduce their acidity the label must indicate this fact and that no vinegars may be diluted to an acidity of less than four grains of acetic acid per 100 cubic centimetres, or approximately 4 per cent.

Dr. Dunlap, one of the three members of the board, did not agree with Dr. Wiley, the chairman, and Dr. Doellittle, and refused to sign the report. He claimed that the addition of water to vinegar constituted adulteration, "as much as the fattening of oysters in fresh water, or the thinning of milk by the pump handle process."

Sec. Wilson has approved of a decision of the pure food board, which holds that no cherries may be labeled "maraschino" unless they are Marasca cherries preserved in maraschino, a liquor prepared for distillation of the Marasca cherry.

PASSACONAWAY TRIBE

The regular meeting of Passaconaway tribe of Red Men was held last night and the members listened to good advice given by Geo. R. Ryan, the acting sachem. Brothers P. Steele and George Houle spoke on degree work and the impressiveness of the ceremony. Brother Edmund

PERHAPS by the time this reaches the reader's eye that organ will have been assailed by big newspaper headlines announcing "EXTRA! BALLOON SALES ACROSS THE ATLANTIC!" In that case kindly translate into the past tense whatever is said herein in the future tense. But it does not seem likely at the present writing that that will be necessary, for the start of Joseph Brucker's transatlantic balloon trip is not scheduled for an earlier date than March 8.

For several months Joseph Brucker, a German American journalist, has been working to perfect his plans to fly across the big pond which divides us from Europe. He has been confident of success, too, for he has studied in all its phases the problem of dirigible balloon aviation and has profited by the experience of Wellman, Zeppelin and others. He believes that in the Persival type balloon which he has had constructed for the purpose of flying across the Atlantic he has reached the last word in the matter of dirigibles.

Brucker's ship is called the Su-chard. It has been built in Berlin and at the famous German aerodrome in Johannisthal. Europe was chosen by Mr. Brucker as the starting place because he believes that transatlantic aerial voyages have a better chance of success when started from the Canary islands in the spring of the year to take advantage of the westward winds. His ship contains, when inflated, 12,000 cubic meters (about 37,200 cubic feet) of gas. It is 320 feet long and about 180 feet in diameter. It is constructed on the Persival principles which have been proved successful in European flights and has three balloons, situated in the interior of the main gas bag. The balloon is capable of lifting about 3,000 kilograms, of which 3,000 are gasoline for the use of the motors. Two motors develop 220 horsepower, which in discussions of the proposed flight were said to be able to give to the airship a speed of forty-eight kilometers (about thirty miles) an hour with the aid of the trade winds.

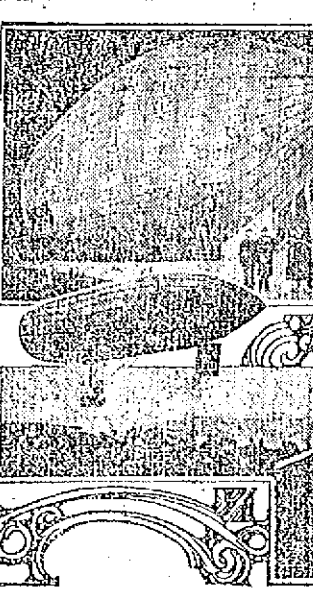

Underneath the big balloon has been affixed a motorboat to afford refuge to the aviators in case of accident. Mr. Brucker and his associates have taken every precaution, of course, but they do not intend to drown in case their big gas bag takes a notion to poke her nose or her stern into the Atlantic.

LABOR COMMISSIONER NEILL

had conferences with Immigration Agents Gordon of Haverhill and Hudson of St. Johnsbury, Vt. Commissioner Neill refused absolutely to tell the purpose of his visit. He says he expects to be here two or three days.

Last December this question arose in connection with the trip of the Su-chard. If the balloon succeeds in speeding from Europe to the United States shall the treasury department impose a customs tax on her? The matter was taken up seriously in Washington, and it was decided that the balloon should be admitted duty free into the United States, but under bond to remain here not more than six months. The balloon is classed as a work of science. Of course while the balloon is in the big "gas bags with paddles," as the dirigible balloons are sometimes called, have been busy with their transatlantic plans the heavier than air aviators have not been resting on their laurels. At least two of the world's well known airship operators have announced their intentions of going after the honor that will accrue to the first man to fly from continent to continent. They are Harry N. Atwood, who flew from St. Louis to New York city, and James V. Martin, known as the Harvard air man. Each asserts he will fly across the Atlantic ocean, independently of

LOWELL HIGH TEAM

Tonight the members of the Lowell High school track team will meet the English High school team of Boston at the local annex and a great meet is promised. The Boston team is reputed to be one of the best in the state and the local boys will try hard to win. Last year the Boston team won and the members are confident of duplicating their work. LARGENY CHARGED

Express Co. Clerk Placed Under Arrest

BOSTON, March 2.—Edward H. Hinkley, 31, of 825 Main street, Wakefield receiving clerk for the American Express company at the North Station, was arrested at his place of employment last night charged with the larceny of goods valued at $1000.

The accused almost collapsed when Inspectors Shields, Hart and Conway of police headquarters, who had been shadowing Hinkley for about two weeks, placed him under arrest and brought him to headquarters.

The prisoner was a trusted employee of the Express company for a period of about 14 years and up to the time of his arrest not the least suspicion was directed to him by anybody in the office at the North Station.

Following the mysterious disappearance of packages which were taken to the American Express office at the North Station to be shipped to different points, police inspectors were put on the case.

Hinkley's scheme, the police say, was this: Packages which were in transit and in the care of the American Express company at the North Station office were handled by Hinkley as receiving clerk. It is alleged that he would take a label, paste it over the address of the person to whom it was consigned and, under the name of "F. A. Young," reship to the office of the company in either Somerville or Everett. Later Hinkley would call, claim the bundle and pay the express charges from the North Station to the place shipped. Afterward he would visit a South End pawn shop, the arresting officers say, and pledge the property which would consist of dresses and men's clothing.

Will Be Held in Town Hall Next Thursday Evening

At the Chelmsford Centre town hall on next Thursday evening the first caucus under the change of the number of selection and constables to be chosen will be held. One of the features of the meeting will be the fight for members of the board of selection. This year only three men will be chosen. Heretofore five men were elected to the board. The men to be chosen will serve for one, two and three years in the order of the vote they receive. The three members of the present board, namely Charles F. Devine of East Chelmsford, Charles Lyons of South Chelmsford and David Frank Small of the North Village are candidates for re-election. Others in the field are Walter B. Emerson, Frank O. Dutton and Bert Chandler of Chelmsford Centre and Frank Lupton and James Beck of West Chelmsford. One of the new candidates, Walter B. Emerson, who entered the fight at the solicitation of his many friends, according to the gossip of the town, looks like a sure winner. Mr. Emerson is a son of Brad Emerson who served on the board of selection several years. The older Mr. Emerson was on the board when a similar change in the number to be chosen went into effect.

In the contest for the town clerkship, for three years the present incumbent, Edward J. Robbins, has no opposition. There are two candidates

FOREIGN MISSIONS

The Boston Archdiocese Raised $70,855.67

The contributions from the Catholic churches of the Boston diocese towards the foreign missions have been much larger last year than in any previous year, and this due to the generosity of the faithful, and the members of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, who are endeavoring to collect the monthly dues of five cents from their bands of ten.

St. Jean Baptiste church, this city, stands at the head of the diocese with donations amounting to $1,557.27. The other local churches and the amount given are as follows:

St. Peter's, $125.87; St. Patrick's, $240.75; Immaculate Conception, $162.66; Notre Dame de Lourdes, $12.15; St. Michael's, $255.00; Sacred Heart, $247.20; St. Louis, $100.60.

Lowell alone has contributed $2,433.74 for the foreign missions, while in the entire diocese the sum of $70,855.67 has been turned in, not counting over $10,000 given through the generosity of His Eminence, the Cardinal, the priests and faithful of the diocese, to help Bishop Foley of the Philippines.

When a friend advised me to try Ever-Heal, I received instant relief from the application. It seemed like a god-sent to me, as it cured my itching, inflamed skin, also cracked hands. ## THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1911 was

15,442

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Platte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1912. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

It is reported from Washington that Roosevelt's support has slumped greatly since his Columbus speech. He will find that the people do not like a man who breaks his word when he will.

The street commissioner, as was expected, tries to blame the other members of the board for cutting his estimates. It is but right that he should have an opportunity to apply the financial ability of which he boasted in his various campaigns since 1909.

The mill operatives of Lowell are entitled to be paid at least as much as those of Lawrence. They are, as a rule, more skillful and more intelligent, and they are certainly not disposed to make any unnecessary trouble for their employers.

The Lawrence officials evidently blundered when they prevented children of strikers being sent out of town with permission of the parents. Parents cannot be deprived of the right to send their children to another city provided the safety of the children be guaranteed.

The Lowell board of trade as well as the Lowell members of the legislature should endeavor to have the Grand Trunk pass through this city on the north side of the river. Draught, like the other territory north of the Merrimack, has no railroad accommodation and would undergo rapid development were the Grand Trunk to pass through.

The new republic of China is reported to have despatched naval vessels to demand indemnity of the Dutch at Batavia for having killed some Chinese subjects there. This show of defending the honor and the rights of citizens is very well; but we surmise the Chinese republic will not pursue this policy very far. With a larger nation it would appeal to the great powers.

Mr. Bryan apparently thinks that it would be wrong to have all the discord reign upon the republican side. He is, therefore, assiduously planning trouble for the democracy in bringing forward more democratic possibilities. A few weeks ago Bryan seemed committed to Wilson but, as now appears, he only favored Wilson in preference to Harmon. Now, however, he prefers the nomination of Governor Shafroth of Colorado to any of the candidates mentioned. Perhaps in the end Mr. Bryan will decide to seek the nomination himself, feeling, as does Roosevelt in regard to the presidency, that with an occasional intermission he can keep on seeking the presidential nomination and plunging his party in defeat for the rest of his natural life.

WHAT IS BEER?

What is beer? Who can tell? The pure food board is wrestling with the question just as some years ago it wrestled with the conundrum, "What is whiskey?" It was President Taft who finally gave the definition that was to stand. Perhaps he will now have to solve the beer question, although the election of a democrat may save him the trouble. The democratic president, too, may be more of an authority on the subject.

THE DEADLY PARALLEL

Here are two contradictory statements by Colonel Roosevelt which by a simple illustration he can demonstrate to be in perfect accord:

Nov. 8, 1911.

"Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

Feb. 25, 1912.

"I will accept the nomination for president if it be tendered to me."

This, we imagine, should qualify him as president of the Ananias club of which he has long been the patron and procurator.

THE BRITISH COAL STRIKE

The Liberal party of England has had to deal with many difficulties in the form of parliamentary and other conflicts, but the present coal strike is probably the worst yet encountered. Should the strikers become violent the military forces would be called into action to protect life and property, and in that way the ministry might lose the support of the Laborites. The government wants to avoid any conflict of this kind, and hence it is likely that radical measures will be adopted to bring about a settlement. The continuance of such a strike for even a few weeks would seriously cripple manufacturing, shipping and steam locomotion. Such strikes should be settled by compulsory arbitration.

THE LAWRENCE TROUBLE NEARING THE END

Things are more hopeful in Lawrence. It is refreshing to find that the management of the American Woolen company seems to have come to its senses after a serious spell of indifference to the demands of its employees. The company could have saved money by offering this increase in wages several weeks ago. It would also have saved the city of Lawrence considerable excitement and turmoil.

It is to be hoped that the operatives will accept the advance in wages offered by the mills as it seems to be as much as textile manufacturers usually grant at any one time. We understand that the operatives are to receive pay for 56 hours while working 54 hours, and five per cent. additional. The increase might look somewhat better if it had been put in figures indicating the total percentage of increase.

It is to be hoped that the level-headed labor leaders of Lawrence will advise the strikers to accept this offer and return to work. That would probably end, at least for the present, all trouble between the mill owners and the operatives.

It should be remembered that the textile business is not booming at the present time and that as usual there is likely to be a dull spell during the coming summer on account of the political excitement incident to the presidential year. The tariff is under consideration and the industry will undoubtedly be more or less disturbed as a result; but it is to be hoped that the mills will get along without entanglement.

That a number of Lowell people will attend the charitable Irish society dinner in Boston on March 18.

That the members of the Knights of Equity are arranging for a monster banquet.

That "Jim" McDowell, erstwhile member of the Lowell Water board, has his new position in New Bedford.

That there'll be some class to the B. & M. clock's ball in April.

That the semi-monthly dancing party, held under the auspices of the "Old Timers" at the Draught Grange are proving very popular.

That Jimmy Bourke of the Mathews is a great hustler.

That Martin Maguire, the popular local tenor soloist, is making good at North Attleboro.

That John Gleason, baggage man at the Northern depot, is very courteous and obliging to all those who have occasion to visit his department.

That the members of Company K made a great impression while on duty in Lawrence.

That many social affairs are being planned for after the Lenten season.

That Thomas Maloney, physical instructor at the C. Y. M. C., is doing great work with his large classes.

That Senator Brown L. Barlow is a busy man at the state house these days.

That of the many recruits who are called to the south by the big ball teams few will be chosen.

That the sensational scribbles will not let Jimmie de Jof rest in peace.

That Johnny Killane, the new champion featherweight, is a product of the cold soil.

That Rufus E. Chelver is certainly making good as superintendent of the Middlesex County Training school.

That the Shaw Stocking company boasts of several star teams of lady bowlers.

SEEN AND HEARD

Robert Goelet enjoys a good smoke and a good story equally well. One day recently he was enjoying a Havana while waiting for his auto in front of one of the big buildings around by the Goelet estate, when there approached him an elderly and important reformer.

"How many times do you smoke a day?" asked the middle-aged.

"Three," answered Mr. Goelet, as peacefully as he could.

"How much do you pay for them?"

"Fifty cents," confessed the young man.

"Don't you know, sir," continued the sage, "that if you would save the money by the time you are as old as I am you would own the big building over the way?"

"Do you own it?" inquired Mr. Goelet.

"Well, I do," said the young man, and the reformer faded.

The laziest man in the village was actually running, and running hard. On, on he ran until—crash—he landed plump into the portly vicar.

"What—what is the matter?" gasped the reverend gentleman in astonishment.

"Can't stop, sir!" came the hurried reply. "I've just 'card the job!"

"And have you 'card some work?" asked the vicar, interestedly.

"Don't know, sir; just going to see," said the young man.

"What is it?" asked the clergyman in amazement.

"Some washin' for my wife!"

Organized helplessness. A queer phrase? Not at all. Here is an old

CURED VERY SORE RASH ON BABY'S EAR

Scratched Until It Bled Then Turned into Scabs. Mother Washed It with Cuticura Soap and Applied Cuticura Ointment. In 3 Weeks He Was as Well as Ever.

74 Blackstone St., Worcester, Mass.—"First a red rash came on baby's ear and it was very itchy. He would scratch it until it would bleed and then it would turn into scabs, and get very sore. He was very cross. I got some ointment; but that made it worse and made him crosser. I bought the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and washed baby with the Cuticura Soap; then put the Cuticura Ointment on. I was surprised to see him getting better after a few treatments and I kept on using them. At the end of three weeks he was perfectly cured and as well as ever. Now he has a beautiful clear skin and has not had any trouble since."

"When I saw how it cured baby I made my husband try it on a rash he had on his leg, which was very sore. After using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment six times it disappeared for good." (Signed) Mrs. John D. Dixon, Nov. 12, 1911.

WHY STRIKEST THOU ME?

Translated by Nathan Haskell Doole from the (anonymous) German.

Why dost thou strike me?—Ever faithful!

In service to thee do I live; And often when thou wert in peril My very utmost would I give; My life I would lay down for thee! Why strik'st thou me?

In bustling storm and cruel winter, In murky night or through the day, Question I have trotted by thee, And guarded thee along the way. I've watched thee and protected thee: Why strik'st thou me?

When dashed the robber's steel against thee, When thou wert threatened by his arm, And thou didst call for aid and rescue, Who saved thee then from mortal harm? My blood flowed on the sand for thee: Why strik'st thou me?

When down the sheer walls of the chasm That gleams the torrent thou didst slide, Thou there hadst perished maimed and helpless, Had I not sought thee far and wide, Myself forgetting sought I thee: Why strik'st thou me?

When on the furious billows drifting Thou heededst up a beckoning hand And no man dared attempt to save thee, I brought thee safely to the land. From certain death I rescued thee: Why strik'st thou me?

Oh doom me not to starve and perish; The poor old Sultan do not slay! For then too wilt the days soon darken In which thy strength will fade away. Then thou wilt beg as I beg thee— Why strik'st thou me?

EDITORIAL COMMENT

N. Y. Sun: There can be no denying the fact that the record of automobile accidents in this city grows more shocking from year to year, even from month to month. It is appalling that 263 persons have been killed and 1663 injured in a little more than two years. With the rapid increase of population and the consequent use of automobiles, the casualty list will lengthen deplorably, especially in the congested streets of Manhattan, unless a remedy is found. The time is not remote when the horse will retire before the press of automobiles and heavy transportation motors. It is of the first importance, then, that the automobile traffic shall be regulated with particular regard to the rights and safety of the great majority that go about on foot.

RETAIN WILBY

Brooklyn Times: We have every reason to believe that Dr. Harvey W. Wilby knows his business. We believe that he has done so, this time and time again. His work in the past has apparently left nothing to be desired. He has succeeded where others have failed. In reality, however, his labor is only just begun. He has merely touched the fringe of the work in hand. Important as has been his undertakings in the past, those of the future should be more important. As the detector of bunions find his services have become invaluable to the department of agriculture. We cannot afford to let him go. If his work is hampered by others in the department it is the others whose services we can better afford to dispense with. We want Wilby.

THE GREATER BOSTON

Albany Sun: Quite casually a Boston paper refers in its news columns to the "general metropolitan district" and includes in this classification places as distant as Brockton, Framingham and Franklin. Evidently it is necessary to keep Boston from finally imagining that the whole of the state is her back dooryard.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Helen Taft, daughter of the president, is one of the familiar figures to be seen daily in the saddle along the drives on the outskirts of the capital, especially on the Potomac speedway. Miss Taft takes her ride regardless of weather, and her favorite mount is a champion white horse named "Gladstone." She is followed by a splendid team of horses, and a splendid driver. Miss Taft is always followed by Sergt. McDermott, who won fame as the riding companion of former President Roosevelt on his cross country rides.

Some years ago when William J. Bryan was one of his campaigns for the seat in the White House he was upon a speech-making tour of the west with a special trainful of newspaper correspondents. One of these correspondents, when the train reached Denver, on its swing round the circle, discovered that his supplies of money were running low. He was to leave the Bryan party at Indianapolis, and when he missed connections with a remittance from his office he counted his cash and estimated, says the New York Post, that by doing with two meals a day and practicing rigid economy otherwise, he would have just enough to buy his ticket to New York—without a sleeper.

He carried out his program and nobody seemed to observe his abstinence. At Indianapolis the connection with the first train was close. At the station the newspaper man hurried to the ticket office. As he stood there waiting for his turn a large, heavy hand was laid upon his shoulder. He turned and faced Mr. Bryan. "Do you happen to need any money?" said the Nebraska's pleasant voice. "I could use a loan of ten dollars," said the newspaper man. Bryan thrust a twenty-dollar bill into his hand. "It was a charitable action," said the correspondent, telling the story. "but I did not know him well then, and I had no idea that he had noticed those little crumplings of money, which apparently had escaped the attention of everybody else."

The fact that a willing-desk used by Robert Louis Stevenson fetched no less a sum than $125 in a London auction room seems to indicate an overabundance of intellect on the part of the purchasers, or in the belief in a cure for objects with a literary association that will enable him to pass it on with a profit. "We wonder," it remarks what R. L. S. would have thought of the price, considerably larger than the copyright of one of his books.

In accordance with the exchange arrangement with Harvard, Albert Bushnell Hart, professor of American history and government, will spend the month of March with Grinnell college, while there giving three courses of lectures of which one will be on the part of the past of the 1816 and 1848 and another eight biographical lectures.

HOW I KILLED MY SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Even After Beauty Doctors, Electricity, Powders, Pastes and Liquid Depilatories Failed

(From a Correspondent)

"Killed" sound a strong word to use, but that is just what I wanted to do to the hair that disfigured my face and arms—I wanted to kill it root and end, so that it would never live again. It spoiled my looks, made me seem old and masculine, and hence interfered with both social and business success. I tried the ordinary dissolvants and depilatories, but found them worthless—even dangerous. From a so-called specialist I secured electrical treatment. It was painful and expensive, but I would have stood the suffering and cost, had I not found that the needle (electrolysis) often leaves scars that are even worse than the disfiguring hair itself.

So I gave up hope, and in despair resigned myself to being called the "hairy lady" for the rest of my life, until a travelled friend persuaded me to try a new and easy method for myself and the Japanese. In it I found a way to actually kill the hair, and I permanently removed the superfluous growth at the same time improving my complexion. I would have been glad to tell you of my experience, but I have been so busy since that I have not had time to do so. It is nothing like the powder, paste and liquid preparations that simply smother off the exposed hair and ruin the skin. It is a discovery only recently introduced into this country and so simple that any woman can use it in the privacy of her own room, and in only a few minutes time.

Many friends have said to me, "It seems too good to be true, but the hair is gone, and you look so much better, so I will try it." If you will write me for full particulars, enclosing stamp for reply, which will be sent in plain, sealed envelope, you too may enjoy the same happy experience. For I will tell you fully and freely about this wonderful discovery as you can be just as successful as I was. Please state if Mrs. Gray, and address Mrs. Caroline Oswood, Apartment 673 B. R., 118 East 28th St., New York City.

SHE DIED SUDDENLY

Mrs. Vincent Was Well Known Resident of This City

Mrs. Cyril Vincent, a well known resident of this city, died suddenly last night at her home, 18 Ford street, her death being the second in the family in nine months. Her husband having passed away suddenly last June.

Deceased was a prominent member of St. Joseph's parish and was well known in high esteem by her many friends in this city where she has lived for the past 25 years.

Mrs. Vincent, nee Georgiana Noel, seemed to be in the best of health yesterday. She attended the Lenten mission, and yesterday morning she went to church and received communion. Last night she attended the service at St. Jean Baptiste church and when she returned she did not complain of being ill until 10:45 o'clock when she told her daughter she was choking. Dr. J. E. Lamoureux and Rev. Charles Audibert, O. M. I. were called in a hurry, but when they arrived it was too late, the sick woman was at the point of death and she expired a few minutes later.

If she had lived till the 25th of this month she would have been 67 years of age. She is survived by 12 children and 20 grandchildren. The children are: Arthur of Lawrence, Philippe, Eugene, Ernest, Emile and Auguste of this city; Henri of Gloucester, Mrs. Joseph Gagne of St. Felix de Kingsey, Que., Mrs. D. Carlier of Drummondville, Que., Mrs. Antonio Dion of Montreal, Que., and Eugene of this city; three sisters, Mesdames Joseph Hubert of Richmond, Que., P. Gaudin of Lowell and C. Gaudin of St. Joseph's, Que., and a brother, Trefin Noel of Richmond. She was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis and of St. Anne sodality of St. Joseph's parish. The friends and relatives are requested to omit flowers.

STATE OWNERSHIP

Object of an Attack in the Duma

ST. PETERSBURG, March 2.—A rather strong indictment of state ownership, as far as Russia is concerned, was made recently in the Duma, when the shortcomings in various branches of the Russian state management were illustrated in the report of a committee of inquiry read by Deputy Godaev.

The navy headed the list for ruinous neglect of the interests of the treasury as well as those of the service. One flagrant instance of lack of business method was given. In repairing the ice-breaker Yermak in England, one of its engines costing $100,000 was removed. An offer to buy the discarded engine for $15,000 was made, but the Russian naval officers thought that a low price, and shipped the engine to Revel at a cost of $4,500. There it lay in the open for seven years and was finally sold for $300. Excessive allowances and wastefulness on the part of the Russian war vessels abroad were very frequent. The committee discovered that on the same day in the same port different vessels purchased coal at prices varying from $5.40 to $9.50 a ton.

The army showed similar mismanagement. In one case the treasury was the loser because of the irregularity. At the Tikhva station 563,000 horseshoes were inspected by counting that the actual supply stored was 1,367,000. The supply of nails to go with them was also more than double that entered. The naval experience, however, was to find the actual stocks far short of the amount accounted for.

In the budget of the ministry of railways, next largest after the ministry of finances with its spiraling monopoly, there was a deficit of $61,000,000 for the year 1908 on the budget of $205,500,000. This chronic deficit is ascribed to the greater cost of construction over that prevailing on private railroads and to other causes. On the average, the state spent $10,181.50 more per verst (about 3.4 miles) than private railroads. The Amur railroad is costing 10 to 15 per cent more than the estimates. This line around Lake Baikal cost $5,000,000 more than the estimates, that being 20 per cent of the entire cost.

The state iron works on the Ural show a similar unsatisfactory record, with a deficit totaling $5,000,000 for the last ten years. Rep. Godaev referred to the fact that this deficit occurred despite the membership of these state works in the combination of iron works which kept an unusually high level of prices, which is not the province of the government to encourage.

MORGAN TREASURES

To be Guarded by the Customs Authorities

NEW YORK, March 2.—Unusual precautions have been taken by the customs house authorities to guard the art treasures, valued at many millions, and imported by J. P. Morgan from his European museums and galleries to this city during transit to their final destination.

Cable despatches from London state that Mr. Morgan has listed a value of $20,000,000 on the treasures, while Michael Nathan, vice official assessor sent abroad by the treasury department to inspect the art objects, believes that $50,000,000 is a closer estimate of the value of the collection.

The first shipment of the art works already has been received and another shipment is expected within a few days. Not one of the works of art is handled by the local examiners or appraisers. The cases in which they arrive are not even opened and the inventory of lists of articles describing the shipment are inspected without question and passed without examination.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh detailed Deputy Appraiser Nathan to go abroad and represent the customs at London. Nathan examined each article before its shipment and noted whether or not it is entitled to admission free or duty. An unpacking of the shipment here for customs examination might have caused an injury or destruction to some of the priceless pieces of art.

FOUND NOT GUILTY

Degraff Was Accused of Murder

BOSTON, March 2.—The rising sun today brought freedom to William Degraff of Philadelphia, the cook of the barge Glendower, the jury acquitting him of the murder of Captain Charles B. Wyman of Thomaston, Me., on June 9th of Minot's Light after an all night session. There were two other sessions in the barge with Degraff and both claimed that Degraff discovered the body of Captain Wyman.

Bernadini was high man with a total of 332.

Team One took all the points from Team Two in the U. S. E. & S. Co. league series. The Middlesex team won all the points from the Bleachery quintet in a game on the Brunswick alleys. The Giants took all the points from the Merrimack repair shop team in their game on Les Miserables alleys. Two teams from the Kitson Machine shop met on Les Miserables alleys and Team One won all the points from Team Two.

SENATOR DIXON TO BE IN CHARGE ROOSEVELT CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK, March 2.—Senator Joseph M. Dixon of Montana has been chosen to lead the executive committee of the national Roosevelt campaign and, with Truman H. Newberry, secretary of the navy under Roosevelt, to lead the field forces in the fight to nominate Mr. Roosevelt for president. Mr. Newberry will head an administrative committee the other members of which are not yet announced. Immediately after the announcement was made that Senator Dixon would be in charge he issued a statement in which he says: "Straw votes everywhere, with the single exception of the financial district in the lower end of Manhattan island, have all told one unanimous story. In more than half a million votes so tested Colonel Roosevelt has led in the balloting by an average ratio of more than five to one over Mr. Taft and by a clear majority over all the candidates combined, both republican and democratic." The announcement of Mr. Dixon's selection was made by Alexander Revell of Chicago, chairman of the national Roosevelt committee at a conference in which Colonel Roosevelt, forty-five years old,

GOVERNOR FOSS

Asks Inquiry Into State Control of Insane

BOSTON, March 2.—Governor Foss, in a special message to the legislature, calls for an exhaustive study of the present form of state control of the insane. He questions whether the present system has justified itself. The governor refuses to approve special appropriations amounting to nearly $1,000,000 on the ground that the special appropriations are based upon the theory that the insane institutions must be constantly enlarged.

"I believe that, in general, our state system tends more toward isolating and permanently confining the insane than toward their effective medical treatment," says the governor.

Mayor Fitzgerald's bill to abolish pauper hospitals was reported favorably in the house yesterday.

HOLY ROSARY SODALITY

JEREMIAH LYNCH

A Former Resident of Lowell is Dead

Jeremiah Lynch, formerly of this city, died at his home in Pawtucket, R. I., Thursday. The following report of his death was clipped from a Pawtucket paper:

The death of Jeremiah Lynch, a well known resident of the city for many years, occurred yesterday afternoon at his home 520 High street, after an illness of only a few hours. Mr. Lynch was taken ill with a shock while eating breakfast at his home yesterday morning. He fell unconscious, in which condition he remained in spite of the efforts made to revive him, and died about 4 in the afternoon. Dr. Howe, who attended him, pronounced the cause of death to be cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Lynch came to this city from Lowell, Mass., when a young man and always made his home here since. He was always deeply interested in athletics, particularly baseball, and in his younger days took an active part in the latter sport. He was a member of the city league and was an umpire on the circuit and afterward served in this capacity in other matches and series in various parts of New England.

The deceased is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Thomas H. Hughes. He was a member of Central Falls Junior Order of Eagles, and was actively interested in the affairs of that body. The funeral will take place Monday morning at Sacred Heart church, Pawtucket.

ROBBER KILLED

In a Running Fight With Citizens

MONTREAL, March 2.—One of the five robbers that broke into a branch of the Royal bank early today at Montreal West, a junction of the Canadian Pacific railroad, five miles west of the city, was killed in a running fight with citizens. Residents of the neighborhood got the alarm before the gang had obtained any loot.

After an exchange of shots the other four robbers escaped, leaving the body of their dead companion.

NORTH BILLERICA

The "Willing Workers" of the North Billerica church held a supper and entertainment in the church vestry last night. There was a large attendance of members of the parish and their friends and both the supper and entertainment were greatly enjoyed.

Supper was served at 8:30 o'clock after which the entertainment was presented. A humorous sketch was presented under the direction of Miss Minnie Clifford of this city. The program was as follows:

Aut Sophrony, a maiden, Mrs. Haskell; Rose, her niece, Miss Clifford; Sam Hunt, in love with Rose, Mr. Bowen; Hezekiah Jehoshaphat Brown in old soldier, Mr. Hibbs. The piece was one of the funniest that has been presented at this church for a long time and the "actors" kept the audience in roars throughout. Two African midgets, whose identity was not announced, contributed to the general fun making by personal hits, songs, etc. The entertainment was of a different line from what has been presented here in the past and was a decided hit from beginning to end. In addition to the program given above, songs were rendered by H. B. Ellis, Mrs. Carrie Beach and Mrs. Frank E. Walker.

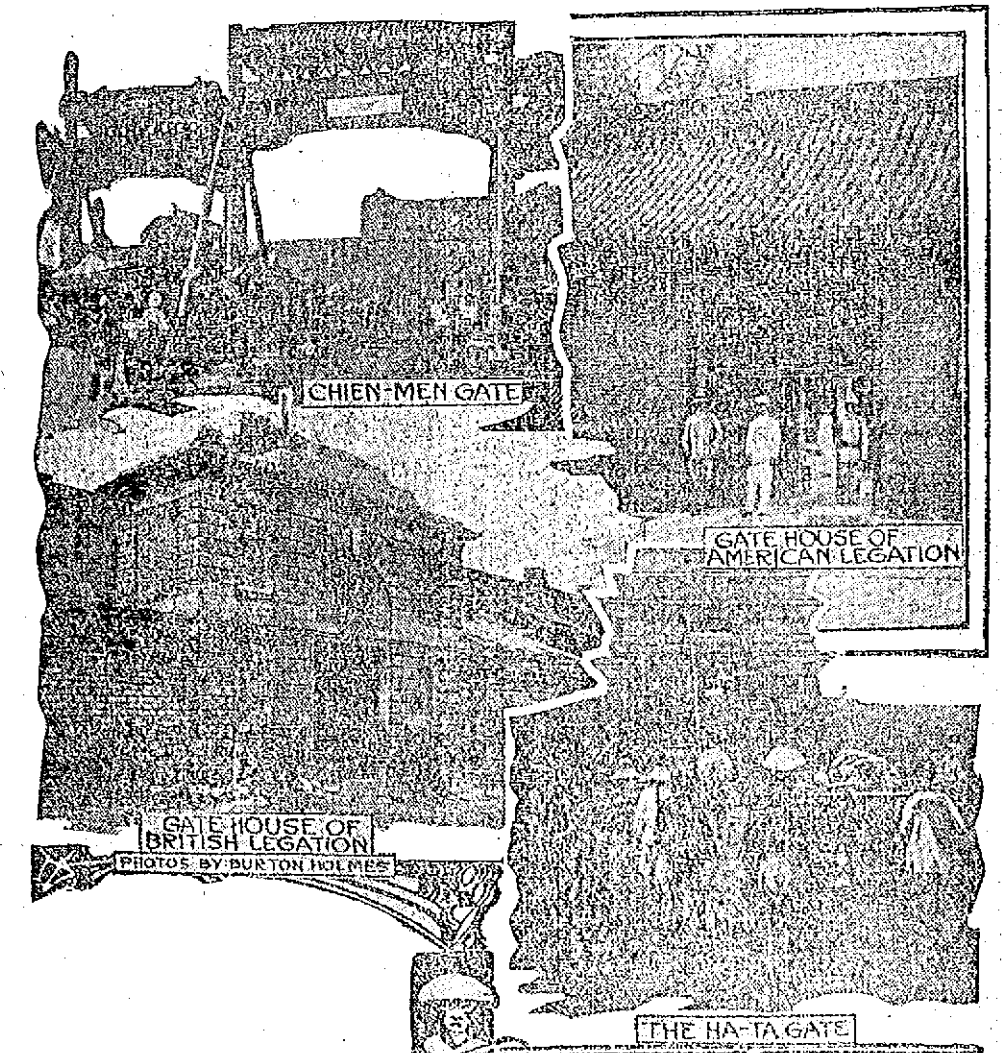

The general committee was in charge of Miss Lilla Bottanley as chairman. Mrs. W. Carter, Mrs. John Carson, assisted by Mrs. J. Ritchie, Mrs. H. Eaton, Mrs. C. H. Williams, Mrs. T. M. Hanson, Mrs. A. Perry, Miss Florence Ruth, Charles Ritchie, Spurgeon Williams, Nyles Eaton, Warren Switzer.

The Nineteen Hundred club met at the home of Mrs. P. B. Kirschner in Billerica Centre the day before yesterday and the afternoon was spent in an enjoyable manner. The program of the afternoon was as follows: "Current Topics," Mrs. J. H. Dale; "Allice Freeman Palmer," Mrs. Ducky; "School Training and Home Making," Mrs. Bowman; "What Children Read and What They Should Read," Mrs. Sexton. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Kirschner, the hostess. She was assisted by Mrs. H. F. Jacobs and Miss Annie Shedd, who poured.

PEKING, March 2.—Peking is practically in the hands of a mob of infuriated Chinese soldiers, and the foreigners have fled to the legation for protection. Two thousand soldiers, angered at not being paid, began burning and looting and were afterward joined by hundreds of police, coolies and loafers. The multitudes ran through the streets, burning and plundering on all sides. Thousands of shops were looted, principally those of dealers in gold and silver and art curios and pawnbrokers. Fustilades of shots were fired to intimidate the inmates. Several shopkeepers who guilted promptly to surrender their valuables were shot or bayoneted. The American is the most exposed legation, lying outside the main quadrangle of the quarter. The American end of Legation street is the only unenclosed section. The legation recently considered the advisability of putting up barricades, but not caring to excite Chinese suspicion, merely depended on sandbags and barbed wire, which have now been more effectively rearranged for defensive purposes. The legation garrison now numbers about 2000, and it is not anticipated the Chinese will attack the legation; their principal object being pillage. American soldiers have taken possession of the Chien-men pagoda, and the Germans have occupied the Hatanan pagoda without opposition from the Chinese soldiers. These pagodas surround gates and overlook the legations, and their possession was considered strategically necessary. In the siege following the Boxer uprising of a dozen years ago fortresses were kept in the legations for months, and by the time the siege was raised sixty-seven legation members and guards were killed, 169 were wounded, while the loss inflicted on the Chinese amounted to at least 3500.

NEW BEAM HOUSE OF THE AMERICAN HIDE AND LEATHER COMPANY

The new beam house of the American Hide & Leather Co. in Perry street is finished, all that is left to be done being the cleaning part and this will be completed within a few days. The cement work is all done, and already a large part of the building has been heated.

The Abernethy Construction Co. erected the building which is of concrete, and the officials of the company stated this morning that the place is ready for occupancy any time now, and that the building will be turned over to American Hide & Leather Co. probably sometime next week.

Work on the building was started on Sept. 1, 1911, and pushed along at a rapid gait, and now Lowell has one of the most improved and sanitary beam houses in the country, and it will be only a short time before the residents of Howe street and its vicinity will be able to breathe purer air than they have for a number of years.

INCREASE IN WAGES

Granted the Employees of the U. S. Bunting Co.

It was reported today that an increase in the wages of its operatives had been granted by the United States Bunting Co. and the report was verified by J. Brooks Stevens, treasurer of that company, and the Middlesex company in Warren street.

"Is it true, Mr. Stevens, that the United States Bunting Co. has advanced the wages of its operatives?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, it is true," said Mr. Stevens.

"Was it a five per cent advance?" "The company has decided to give its help an increase but it has not been stated just exactly what the increase would be."

The advance does not extend to the Middlesex mills for the reason perhaps that those mills are just preparing to resume operations. The Middlesex, as has already been stated in "The Sun," will resume the manufacture of the famous Middlesex blue and a few looms are already in operation.

FIRE IN A GARAGE

Blaze Started Near a Gasoline Tank

An alarm from box 42 at 1:57 o'clock this afternoon summoned a portion of the fire department to the Stanley garage in Middlesex street to extinguish a fire in an automobile belonging to Isaac E. Walton. The fire started near the gasoline tank and the proprietor of the place with the assistance of one of his employees pushed the blazing machine into the street. Then the alarm was rung in and shortly after the arrival of the fire department the blaze was extinguished.

CLARK AND LODGE

Reply to Letter On Arbitration Treaties

Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, senior U. S. senator from Massachusetts and Hon. Champ Clark, speaker of the national house of representatives, have replied to the letters sent with the resolutions adopted Feb. 11 by the delegates to the St. Patrick's day convention. Senator Lodge states in his letter that the subject of treaties is such a large one that it cannot be dealt with adequately in a letter, though he states that Thursday he addressed the senate, setting forth his attitude on such matters, a copy of which address he will later mail to the secretary.

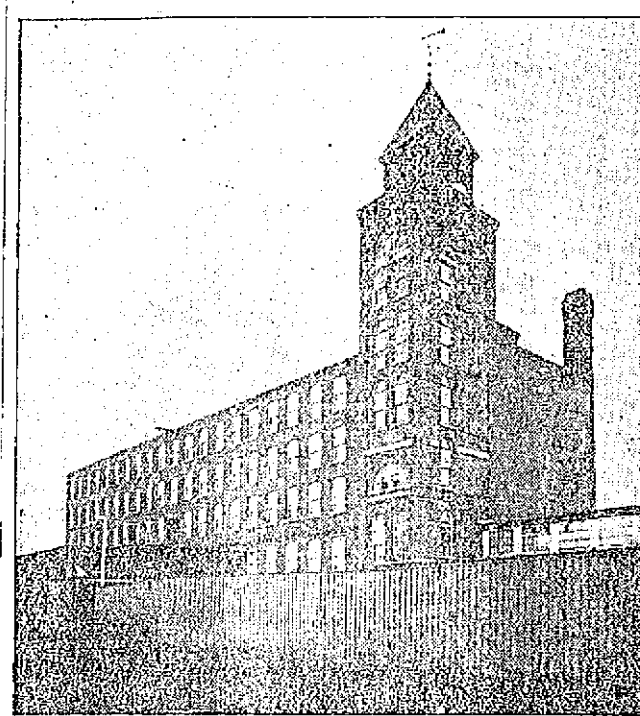

Speaker Clark, briefly replies to the letter sent him, stating that some time ago he was asked to join the "One Hundred Years of Peace Movement," but that he declined.

Congressman Ames has not as yet replied to the letter sent him. At the time the letters and resolutions were sent to Washington, Congressman Ames was conducting a personal investigation of the Lawrence strike and did not arrive at the capital until the latter part of the week, hence the delay in acknowledging the resolutions. The letters received by Secretary John V. Donoghue today from Senator Lodge and Speaker Clark are as follows:

March 1, 1912.

My dear Sir:

I have received the resolutions of the Irish Catholic societies of Lowell in opposition to the pending treaty of arbitration with Great Britain and protesting against any semi-official or official observance on the part of the United States on the conclusion of one

AMERICAN WOOLEN CO.'S MILL IN COLLINSVILLE.

GREAT REJOICING

Operatives Pleased With Increase in Pay

There was great rejoicing at the Beaver Brook mills in Collinsville when the operatives learned that they were to receive an increase of five per cent. The Beaver Brook mills are the property of the American Woolen company and, as was stated in "The Sun" yesterday, that company has granted a five per cent increase that covers all of its 37 mills. The operatives in the Beaver Brook mills, about 1000 in all, had no inkling of the good news until notices were posted advising them of the increase. Business has been very good of late at these mills and the advance, small as it is, will gladden the hearts and temper the spirits of the toilers with new ambition.

TWO WORKMEN INJURED

BOSTON, March 2.—Two workmen employed at the factory of the Davenport Furniture Co. at East Cambridge were injured today when the condenser exploded. The injured men, William Barber and Manuel Enos, were removed to the Massachusetts General hospital. The other employees were not hurt. Many windows on the ground floor were blown out and several machines were damaged.

Hundred years of peace with that nation. The question of the treaties is such a large one that I cannot undertake to deal with it in a letter but yesterday I made a speech in the senate setting forth my attitude in detail and I shall take the liberty of forwarding a copy to you as soon as it is printed. Meanwhile I shall be glad to present the resolutions to the senate.

As to the observance of the one hundred years of peace, I assume you have reference to the resolutions proposed by Senator Burton making an appropriation for this purpose, which is now pending in the committee on foreign relations. It has not yet been considered by the committee and whether they will take any action upon it I do not know but I am glad to know the views of your organization in this respect and I shall give them the fullest consideration.

Very truly yours,
H. C. Lodge.

John V. Donoghue,
Secretary,
Lowell, Mass.

My dear Mr. Donoghue:

I have received your letter together with the resolution passed by the Irish Catholic societies of Lowell, and have read them very carefully.

I have not heard a word said in Washington about the Hundred Years Peace celebration. Some time during the extra session somebody wrote to me and asked me to join, which I refused to do.

Truly your friend,
Champ Clark.

THOMAS CARRICK

Dracut's Tree Warden Makes Report

Thomas Carrick, tree warden of the town of Dracut and superintendent of moth work in that district, has prepared a most interesting report of the work done during the past year. Mr. Carrick has held his present position for two years and has given great satisfaction to the residents of Dracut. He is the first man who occupied the position in Dracut who succeeded in getting the use of the power spray for that town for spraying wood lots, and he has done more roadside cutting than has ever been done in the town. He succeeded in getting the United States government department interested to the extent that they sent men to Dracut to clean up all roads which were badly infested with moths, and the people of Dracut claim that he has done more work along this line than has been performed in Dracut for many years. The government, through his efforts, is putting out the wilt disease which is expected to destroy the gypsy moth on over three hundred acres of land in that town. During the winter the United States government carried eighteen men in Dracut and the entire river bank along the Lawrence road has been cleared up. Mr. Carrick takes a great interest in his work and the people of the town realize that he is doing his best to do all. His report to the selectmen goes into detail explaining the work of his department and will be embodied in the annual report.

HENHOUSE BURNED

100 HENS PERISHED IN FIRE AT AUSTIN FARM

BOSTON, March 2.—Three hundred women inmates of the Boston Insane hospital at Austin Farm, West Roxbury, through the barred windows shortly after 8 o'clock last night, saw the destruction of the one and one-half story wooden henhouse located about 200 yards from the main building on the southwest corner of the grounds.

A damage of about $500 resulted and 100 hens ended their usefulness with the fire.

The cause of the fire was an overheated stove. Night Watchman Smith discovered the fire and turned in an alarm. Before the arrival of the apparatus, though, the building was practically destroyed. The fire was spectacular, at times the flames leaping 20 feet in the air from the force of the high winds.

There was no excitement in the hospital, though, as the henhouse was isolated from practically all the other buildings on the grounds.

BACHELOR CLUB

TO ENTERTAIN THE ELKS OF MALDEN

The members of the Bachelor club minstrel troupe held a rehearsal last evening for the show that the organization will present in Wakefield on March 17. Owing to the occasion, St. Patrick's day, the troupe will depart from its usual line and will give a genuine Irish program. Another rehearsal will be held in Harrington hall tomorrow afternoon. It was announced last night by Director Stacey that he had received a communication from the Malden lodge of Elks, requesting the troupe to go to Malden on April 29 to present a minstrel show. The members decided to accept and will appear in that town on the above date.

Rehearsals are being held at the Sacred Heart school hall for the presentation of an "Irish Night" in the hall on March 17. A great deal of the past year the talented members of the troupe presented "Uncle Patrick's Birthday" with great success. This year the same members will appear and from present indications the performance will eclipse that which was so successfully given last year.

MORE TROUBLE IN PEKING

PEKING, China, March 2.—A serious recurrence of disorder occurred this morning when a detachment of artillery headed by a band marched to the palace of Duke Kuei-Hsiang, father of the empress dowager, and shelled down the gates. They looted a large amount of property and burned a portion of the palace.

PATROLMAN SHOT TO DEATH

SHIREVEPORT, La., March 2.—Patrolman Sanders of the Shireveport police department was shot to death here last night by several negroes while attempting to arrest one of their number, Jack Campbell. Within an hour two unidentified negroes answering the general description of Sanders' slayers were killed by a policeman when they resisted arrest.

STRIKE LEADERS

INSISTED ON THE DEMANDS MADE ORIGINALLY

LAWRENCE, March 2.—Although all the textile mills in this city against which the operatives have been directed for two months with two exceptions have posted notices regarding an increase in wages or had announced their intention of doing so during the day, the strike officially was no nearer settlement today than before the action by the millowners. Today being a half holiday, the number of persons that went to work in the mills could not be taken as a reasonable indication of what effect the increase in wages may have upon the strikers generally but the attitude of the strike leaders and many of the members of the organized labor bodies continued strongly in support of the original demands, which greatly exceeded the offer made by the millowners. Unless something new is offered by the millowners it was stated that neither the Industrial Workers of the World nor the Central labor union would take any steps toward officially declaring the strike at an end. It is thought that a large number of operatives may not wait for the strike to be declared ended by the labor leaders, believing that the inducements offered by the millowners are sufficient to persuade them to return to work. Whether or not the general strike body will return to the mills will be seen Monday morning when the wage increase goes into effect. The meeting of the general strike committee of the Industrial Workers of the World, this morning had before it the matter of deciding upon another conference between the sub-committee of the general strike committee and the officers of the American Woolen Co. with the legislative committee on conciliation.

The general strike committee was also prepared to report on the conference in Boston yesterday with the officers of the American Woolen Co. which ended without an agreement but which ended owing to a misunderstanding as to the extent of the wage increase which the company announced was to be general in all of its mills.

A canvass of all the mills today showed that notices of a wage increase had been posted at the four mills of the American Woolen Co. the Ayer, Washington, Wood and Prospect mills. At the Lawrence Dye works and the Usawco mill today a notice was posted announcing that beginning next Monday the operatives will be granted an increase in wages. To those whose pay averages $7 a week an increase of five per cent will be given while the employees earning $5 or under will receive an increase of 7 1/2 per cent in pay.

No children were sent from this city today to Philadelphia, although it was expected that a delegation would be transported in an endeavor to create sympathy in the cause of the strike. The strikers' committee decided to postpone the matter of sending away children because the cases of the fourteen children who were taken into custody last Saturday after they had gathered for a trip to Philadelphia are still pending action by the court.

NINTH REGIMENT

TO BE RELIEVED FROM DUTY IN LAWRENCE

LAWRENCE, March 2.—There is no apparent intention at present on the part of the owners of the Everett cotton and Knickerbocker's woolen and worsted mills to follow the lead of other mill managements in granting an increase in wages. Agent J. I. Milliken of the Everett mills said today that it is improbable that his mill will cut on Monday the two months' look-out of its operatives. He would not say, however, that his mill will not ultimately grant an increase. The Knickerbocker management, which claims it already pays a higher grade of wages than other mills, said today that no advance by them is probable at the present time. Other mills which had not posted notices this morning were known either to have decided to grant increases or to be considering the matter with a practical certainty that the lead of other millowners would be followed. The Atlantic Lawrence Dye and Knickerbocker, all cotton mills, are among these.

The battalion of the ninth regiment which has been on duty here for the past two weeks will leave Monday unless developments require their retention. Col. Sweetser said today. He added that under conditions as good as those now existing there will be no replacement of these four companies and a continuance of quiet order will be accompanied by a gradual decrease in the number of troops on duty until the city shall be left in the care of its own augmented police force.

STRIKE LEADERS

CONFER WITH PRES. WOOD AND THE MILL OWNERS

BOSTON, March 2.—A committee representing all the Lawrence mill strikers met the officials of the American Woolen company in the city last evening in a conference regarding the offer of the officials to grant an increase in wages of "at least 5 per cent." At the conclusion of the meeting the strike seemed as far from being settled as it was a week ago.

After an hour's conference with Pres. Wood, Frederick Ayer and other officials of the company, the strikers boarded their train for Lawrence disheartened, leaving no doubt behind as to unfavorable action of the mass meeting of the strikers today on the acceptance of the offer of the mill owners.

It is probable that the strike would have been brought to an end within 24 hours had the employers agreed to grant the wage increase on a "36-hour basis," that is to say increase the wages of the employees 5 per cent, of what they received before the 31-hour law went into effect.

This is not the mill men's offer. They are willing to give a "5 per cent. at least" increase on the rates now paid by the hour and by the piece, and this will mean, so far as the workers by the hour are concerned, and they are about 75 per cent. of all the employees of the American Woolen company, an increase figured on a 34-hour a week basis.

TRAIN WAS LATE

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC DUE HERE AT 6:48 DELAYED

The Canadian Pacific train which is due to arrive in this city at 6:48 o'clock was one-half hour late this morning. The Central Vermont Grand Trunk train was also late. This train is scheduled to reach this city at 7:21 o'clock but today it was one hour and a half late.

The baggage, handled by the men at the northern depot at the present time is very heavy. A dog sent from Salem arrived on a train today. The destination of the canine was Newport, N. H. When the train bearing the animal arrived here the latter was taken off and taken to the baggage department. It remained here about one hour. At 1:03 o'clock the animal was placed on the train for Newport.

WENTWORTH HALL

Old Dartmouth Dormitory Was Damaged

HANOVER, N. H., March 2.—Fire broke out about a o'clock yesterday afternoon in Wentworth hall, the oldest dormitory at Dartmouth, and for an hour kept the Volunteer fire department and the students busy at work.

The flames confined themselves to the woodwork between the roof and upper story and before great damage could be done they were extinguished. The students, some 45 of whom room in the historic building, threw their effects out of the windows.

The cause of the fire is thought to be from electric wiring. The dormitory was erected in 1810 and is situated just north of the new Dartmouth hall, which replaces the original building destroyed by fire in 1904. It forms the north building of the old campus. Wentworth is to be renovated soon and will be used as a lecture hall. It was originally a recitation hall, and later was occupied by the Thayer school engineering students. The damage is placed at about $300.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Seldom does an author portray such an important character as that of a Catholic priest, and have it meet with approval from the clergy. But this is just what has happened to Edward E. Rose, author of "The Rosary," which will be seen at the Opera House next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. "The Rosary," Mr. Rose has drawn a character of Rev. Brian Kelly, a Catholic priest, who adjusts troubles between man and wife, and shows the unlimited amount of good that can be done by a real man, a big man of faith, strength and conviction. The character has been endorsed by the clergy all over the country, and it is said to be the strongest of its kind ever presented on the American stage. The character will be portrayed by Harrington Reynolds, an exceptional artist, who goes through his work convincing the audience that he has mastered the author's conception of the role. "The Rosary" is the same as seen in Boston and New York.

THOMAS E. SHEA

Thomas E. Shea will be the attraction at the Opera House soon. Mr. Shea brings with him an entire new production for his new play, "A Man and His Wife." This is the place that Mr. At. H. Woods promised him last season and from present indications it will prove one of the best things of the season.

GET RICH QUICK WALLINGFORD! George M. Cohen's great American play "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" is the most talked about comedy produced in the past decade and its initial performance in this city at the Opera House soon is one of the genuinely enjoyable anticipated events of the current season.

song writer and producer of international reputation. Mr. Edwards is presenting the headline bill at Keith's next week and it is one of the best he has ever put on. The fact that the act bears Gus Edwards' name is sufficient guarantee of its worth. It is entitled "The Country Kids," and includes five boys, four girls and a Teddy bear. "Miss Rose's Birthday Party" is the title of the act. The musical numbers are by Mr. Edwards and he personally stages the production. Chuck Sale, the limited protean comedian, will give his celebrated "Country School" act. He presents the characters of the school children, the head school master, the all-wise "destrick" committeeman and the town constable. The act is a continuation of loud laughs. Claudis and Scarlet have a novel singing act presenting the old songs of antebellum days, presenting them in the old time way. It is an act that touches the heart. Claude Miller and Virginia Zollman present "The Woman Who Dared," a fine bit of comedy. Dan and Jessie Hunt, just back from a successful tour of Europe, give music, instrumental and vocal wit and repartee and dancing. Fred Jarvis and Ivy Leigh, "The Fellow and Girl on the Bench," have a most enjoyable offering in the comedy line. Hanson and Hanson are premier gymnasts with a clean set of daring stunts. Whittemore's wild branches from a Montana ranch do wonderful equine stunts. Their act is entirely different from the general run of equine acts and is a novelty. A strong bill has been arranged for tomorrow's concert.

NATHAWAY THEATRE

The concluding performance of "Sunset Trail," a deeply interesting play of the romantic wild west, will be presented today, and next week the "Boy Stock Company" will be seen in John Lawrence's great drama, "The Preacher and the Convict," a play of deep human interest. A well known Lowell girl who has been successful in amateur theatricals will make her first appearance with the company. In addition to the regular performance, between the acts there will be singing and moving pictures so that there will be something to do all the time. Mr. Frank Harrington, the singing member of the company, made a big hit this week with his song, "Mr. Harrington was formerly with the Deanna Thompson's 'Old Homestead' double quartet, and is a pupil of the New England Conservatory of Music. 'The Preacher and the Convict' will be finely staged and all the members of the company will be seen in congenial roles. Seats for the concluding performance of "Sunset Trail" and for next week may be ordered in advance by telephone 511. The prices are: Matinee, 10 and 20 cents; Evenings, 10, 20 and 30 cents, and no more.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The return of Miss Constance Jackson as a member of Our Stock Company, in Sidney Grundy's favorite three-act farcical comedy, "Oh! Uncle John," will be learned with pleasure by the large number of patrons of this playhouse. Miss Jackson, whose efforts for the past have made her extremely popular with the numerous playgoers here, has been reading for the past two weeks at her home in Montreal, Canada, and will resume her duties on Monday with renewed effort to again please her many friends in Lowell. "Oh! Uncle John" is a delightful offering, one of Grundy's best endeavors, and should under the careful and efficient labors of Ronald Weston, provide one of the biggest hits of the season. Besides Mr. Weston and Miss Jackson, the cast will include Charles Stevens, and West La Fay, the latter a Lowell boy who has made good in the theatrical profession. Mr. La Fay was at one time associated with the Huntington-Melby stock company. The play will be properly staged.

Miss Anna McMahon, soloist, whose singing is always received with favor, will be heard in "The Song Review," which will include one of her best numbers, "Waiting." The others on the bill are "The Trompet Quartet," recognized as vanguard's sweetest singers, and comedy producers, Fritz's

Troupe of Educated Dogs is classed as a real big animal act of its kind and should add to the general attractiveness of the bill. The photo-plays include "Positive Proof," "The Patchwork Quilt," "Betty and the Doctor," and others equally as interesting. The views of world-wide events are not only interesting, but also have their educational values. On Friday night the Merrimack Square Theatre concert orchestra will feature selections from the opera "Hercules Trunk."

As a special attraction for the sacred concert Sunday afternoon and evening, the management has been able to secure the services of W. S. Kenney, a special correspondent for the Boston Globe, who will give an illustrated lecture entitled "Face to Face With His Holiness, Pope Pius X." Mr. Kenney accompanied the Cardinal O'Connell early to Rome recently, and will tell in an interesting way of his personal experiences in and about the city of Rome and the Vatican. James Callahan, Lowell's own comedian, will also appear on the bill, as well as others whose acts are among the most refined and entertaining in vaudeville. The photo-plays will be all new and the kind that are approved by the state officials.

Manager Carroll announces the coming, soon, of the only John L. Sullivan, one-time champion pugilist of the world, in a monologue that's said to be unusually interesting. It has been some years since John L. has been within our midst, and no doubt his appearance here will bring out large numbers of the old-timers, as well as the present day patrons. There are other equally as good acts booked for future dates, yet to be announced.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The best show in Lowell is the slogan of those who have visited the Academy this week. Come tonight and be convinced. The Hatfield Stock company in "The Dutch Detective" is a scream.

THEATRE VOYONS

Tonight is the last of the showing of "Children Who Labor" at the Theatre Voyons. This picture dealing with the problem of child labor is one of the best staged and acted yet seen. Its story well and clearly told, deals with a little girl, the child of a mill owner who has been taken to parties and to work in her father's mill. His discovery of her and what she and her family do to aid the little ones in the factories is well told. On Monday, "Diamonds in the Rough," a western picture depicting life on a big ranch will be shown.
